Envision Central Texas (ECT) is a non-profit entity responsible for the development and execution of a regional visioning plan process for the Central Texas area including Bastrop, Caldwell, Hays, Travis and Williamson Counties. The project is an extensive long-range regional study that consists of planning models, principles and strategies of current and future growth patterns in the Central Texas region. The study includes an implementation strategy and an analysis of financing, quality of life, mobility, environmental and other issues related to regional planning.

In May 2004, ECT released the Envision Central Texas Vision which provides a vision for the Central Texas area in 20-40 years. In 2005, ECT transitioned from visioning to implementation with seven Implementation Committees to develop tools, resources and projects in critical issue areas such as transportation, land use and the environment. ECT will continue to fulfill its critical role of educating and engaging citizens in an ongoing dialogue about the challenges of growth and the opportunities to shape our region's future. ECT will also be a resource to the region on issues related to key growth trends, best practices and strategies that support quality growth.

Approval of this item will continue the City's participation for Fiscal Year 2006-07.
