The University of Texas Medical Branch (UTMB) operates the Austin Women's Hospital (AWH), located within Brackenridge Hospital, under a lease agreement with the Travis County Healthcare District (District). UTMB provides services at AWH in exchange for payments made by the District pursuant to the lease agreement. Under this three-party agreement, the City would reimburse UTMB for tubal ligations performed for eligible AWH clients from September 2007 through August 2008, up to the maximum authorized dollar amount, and the District's obligation to make service payments to UTMB would be offset by the amount of funds paid by City to UTMB for these services.

The City of Austin (Austin/Travis County Health and Human Services Department) plans to enter into a grant agreement with the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) in the amount of $1,162,735 for the 12-month period of September 1, 2007, through August 31, 2008. Under the agreement between DSHS and the City of Austin, DSHS will agree to purchase and City will agree to provide family planning clinical services for Title XX eligible clients, including bilateral tubal ligation services. The budget related to these services now resides with the Community Care Services Department.

This interlocal agreement will provide reimbursement to UTMB for bilateral tubal ligation services provided at AWH from September 1, 2007 through August 31, 2008 for eligible Title XX patients of the Community Health Centers of Austin and Travis County, which are currently managed by the Community Care Services Department (CCSD) on behalf of the District.

It is estimated that 307 tubal ligations will be performed during the period of September 1, 2007, through August 31, 2008. The amount paid to UTMB shall be based on the allowable rate per procedure as determined by the Title XX fee schedule for that period, and shall not exceed $552,815.
