New business

The Mayor laid before the Council the following Writs

Mayors Office Austin Texas May 14th 1900

To the Honorable City Council

Gentlemen:

The time has arrived for making the last levy for the fiscal year ending December 31st 1901. So far as can be known at this time the various obligations of the City for the year against the general fund will be approximately the same as the present year. The budget of expenses adopted by the Council for this year amounts to $61.745-, and it is estimated that a tax of 90¢ on the $100 valuation, with the other resources of general revenue will more than meet this demand. Such being the case, we should set aside with a 70 cent levy for next year.

Mayors
Wasson
Decy 1900

Involved therefore recommend a levy of 70¢ on the $100. Valuation for general revenue, one fourth of which under the provisions of the Charter, will go to the improvements of the streets and bridges; also a tax of 3 3/8 Cents on the $100. Valuation for schools, and a levy of 7 cents on the $100. Valuation for the payment of interest and sinking fund on old bonds issued prior to May 1st 1890.

On account of the misfortune which has befallen the City in the loss of her dam and the consequent destruction of her water power, which has deprived the City of the ability to pay the Water and Light bonds, according to their tenor and effect, I am unable at this time to recommend any specific levy, and I do not see how the levy can be made until some adjustment is arrived at, equitable alike to the bond holders and the City; then the levy can be so amended as to meet the demands.

Respectfully

Geo D McCall - Mayor
