Walter Meeting of City Council
Austin, Texas, M. J. 1st, 1875.
Mayor, Reuben Pease, Chair; called.
Present: Alton Colley, Crockett, Millett,
Myers, Platt, Boshoff, Strong, & Vaughan.

It was stated that the object of the meeting being held was to consider the provisions of the Sanitary Ordinances, the proposition of a quarantine law for the city of Austin, and the enforcement of the Sanitary Ordinances. Mayor, Reuben Pease, said that he had been opposed to quarantine as a recent but as two persons had been known to reside in the city from infected points, he was now in favor of quarantine against individuals.

Alton Colley, Millett, offered a proposition requesting the Mayor to issue his proclamation establishing quarantine against all persons coming from an infected point and authorizing the appointment of four Quarantine Inspectors at a salary of $84 per week. The resolution had to be read twice before coming under a suspension of the rules and passing; two-thirds of a full council voting in the affirmative. This nomination of the mayor nominated a Board of Health, Drs. J. H. Swearingen, T. D. Martin, R. P. Hines, and C. E. L. Fowler, and Dr. P. H. L. Bill. City Physicians as President.

Mr. Olds, the resolutions unanimously confirmed.

The Mayor also nominated Mr. J. C. Albright as Health Inspector with the understanding that he should receive his compensation for services rendered from voluntary contributions of citizens as provided for rules, resolutions adopted by a meeting of Citizens on Aug. 13th, 1875. On motion Mr. Albright was confirmed by the Council.
