Business & Community Lenders (BCL) Population Served:

BCL of Texas has a 20 year record of making loans to small businesses for the purpose of creating jobs and improving the economic conditions in communities throughout Texas.

BCL's focus is to assist underserved businesses, including minority-, women-, veteran-owned and rural area businesses that often don't have ample financing options available.

Additional Information:

Established by community volunteers from the central Texas region in 1990, BCL of Texas is a not-for-profit community development corporation, which furthers economic development by promoting and assisting in the growth of small businesses in Texas.

In addition to providing business with counseling and technical assistance, BCL of Texas originates, underwrites, processes, closes and services business loans to healthy, growing businesses. Its mission is to create long-term jobs through business development and ensure that local communities benefit by an increased sales and property tax base for the long term. Additionally, the organization also provides homebuyer education programs, assists first-time homebuyers with the purchase of their first home and helps customers remain responsible and successful homebuyers.

Business and Community Lenders (BCL) of Texas, a local Texas non-profit business lender, was one of four organizations designated by the U.S. Small Business Administration to participate in the newly developed Community Advantage Pilot Program. The Community Advantage is a pilot initiative aimed at increasing the number of SBA 7(a) lenders who reach underserved communities and were not previously able to offer SBA loans. Community Advantage will offer up to $250,000 with an 85 percent guarantee for loans up to $150,000 and a 75 percent guarantee for loans of more than $150,000. This initiative, which allows specially-qualified community business lenders to participate in the popular SBA 7(a) business lending program, seeks to improve the capital resources available to small businesses.

BCL is a leader in business expansion capital and community development. When a business comes to BCL of Texas, the organization:

- Assesses their needs and provides counseling on how to help their situation
- Provides underwriting to determine if the business is financially sound enough to take on debt
- Offers technical assistance to teach businesses new management techniques, new ways to market their business, how to retain accounts, etc.
- Structures, packages and processes loans for qualified businesses

In 2008, BCL of Texas:

- Facilitated more than $19,579,168 in Texas through its lending programs and created 418 jobs
- Assisted 500 businesses with business counseling
- Provided homebuyer education to 468 families, of which 417 purchased a home
- Lead an entrepreneurial collaborative with five business technology centers to serve 44 South Texas counties

Since its inception, BCL of Texas has facilitated more than $336 million in business loans throughout Texas and has created more than 3,500 jobs.

The BCL volunteer Board and staff have a vision of excellence. BCL has a highly talented pool of commercial loan officers on staff and on our loan committee. The business and community loan process is streamlined and efficient.
