I. Facility

General Observations: Counseling areas, office space, equipment, lavatories, and safety features (including fire extinguishers and smoke detectors) were inspected and found to be in compliance.

The Center is accessible to disabled clients.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that the Center receives clients Monday through Friday, between the hours of 9:00 AM and 5:00 PM. The Center receives clients with appointments and as walk-ins. The Center has a voicemail system to capture phone calls received outside of office hours.

The Center provides all its services free of charge. The organization receives referrals from the Dallas Independent School District, Child Protective Services, multiple social service agencies, medical professionals, and non-profit organizations. The organization makes referrals to the Housing Authority, Texas Workforce Commission, and other social service agencies, doctors, and hospitals.

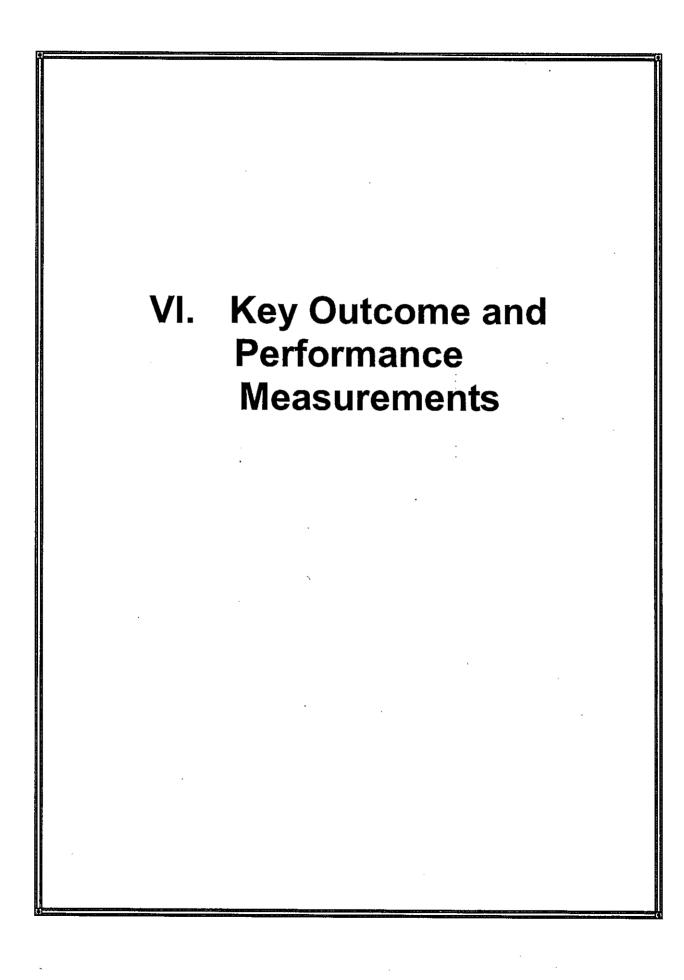

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Program records storage and educational materials were reviewed and found to be in compliance. Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance, Standard Release of Information, Non-Discrimination in Client Services policies and forms were readily available at the organization. The Material Safety Data Sheets were reviewed.

IV. Program Highlights

General Observations: FCC is heavily focused on providing in-home crisis counseling, parent education, and counseling to pregnant and parenting women in need. Support is offered through case management, referrals and educational programs.

	V. Corrective Actions Taken: None need	led.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraph describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her cansent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

The Executive Director shared the story of one of the Center's clients:

A client, eight months pregnant with her fourth child, came to our agency after learning the devastating news that her husband was leaving their relationship. Because she was very dependent on her him to meet her and their children's needs, when he left, she experienced severe uncertainty regarding her life and the arrival of her new baby. We assessed her mental health and referred her to a mental health agency but continued to provide her with numerous services such as anger and stress management, education assistance, and various other counseling. In order to be more independent and thus better care for her children, she has learned to drive and is taking classes to obtain her High School Diploma. The client has renewed self-confidence and is now able to rely on her inner strength to handle the pressures of being a single mother of four children.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for the deficiencies related to reimbursement compliance noted in section IV of this report is deduction. The corrective action for deficiencies included in section II and III of this report was discussed with the Service Provider, and was addressed and completed by the Service Provider, prior to this report's date.

Children and Family Institute is heavily focused on adoption services, pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. They offer a variety of classes that educate clients on parenting, nutrition, child development, healthy relationships, preparing for the future, and what to expect during pregnancy.

INITIAL SITE VISIT REPORT

Site Name: Address:

Pregnancy Resources of Abilene 598 Westwood Drive, Suite 209

Abilene, TX 79603

Site #:

Director:

Holly Whitehead

Counties Served:

Taylor, Jones, Callahan, Nolan

Date of Visit:

February 26, 2009

Visit Conducted By:

Lesley Kutac, Evaluation Coordinator

I. Facility

General Observations: Counseling areas, office space, equipment, lavatories, and safety features were inspected and found to be in compliance. The facility was not equipped with smoke detectors nor were there inspection tags on the fire extinguishers. The waiting area is located within view of common areas in the office building.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that Pregnancy Resources of Abilene's hours of operation are Monday through Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Thursday from 10:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. The center is closed on Friday.

Pregnancy Resources of Abilene receives referrals from local schools, doctor's offices, clinics, Medicaid, WIC, and other community resources.

All of Pregnancy Resources of Abilene's services are free of charge.

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance, Client Non-Discrimination and Standard Release of Information policies and forms are kept on file and are easily accessible. Material Safety Data Sheets are also kept on file. Spiritual materials had not yet been marked or separated from non-spiritual materials and client files were kept in an area that was unlocked during business hours.

IV. Program Highlights

General Observations: Pregnancy Resources of Abilene is well known within the area for providing pregnancy assistance and counseling, sexually transmitted disease testing and awareness, and sonograms. A large number of their clientele are in high school or college, which enables Pregnancy Resources of Abilene to raise awareness and to educate on pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases. They are an exceptional organization and a much needed resource in the area.

V. Corrective Actions Taken: Prior to contract execution, smoke detectors were installed and Fire Extinguishers were re-inspected and labeled with updated tags. Spiritual materials have been labeled and separated from non-spiritual materials. Waiting room glass walls have been frosted in order to protect client confidentiality and client files are now kept in a secure and locked area.

IV. Program Highlights

General Observations: The Marywood Children & Family Services, Hope Site is the only resource of its kind in the immediate area. It is a satellite center of Marywood Children & Family Services, and was opened because of client requests for services in that area. The new site is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance and counseling to pregnant women in need.

Marywood's Hope Site shares a building with an early childhood education program, making it convenient for clients with young children that participate in the program, to take advantage of Marywood's free services.

V. Corrective Actions Taken: The Non-Discrimination Policy was posted in the counseling rooms.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of a client: "I have received Marywood's services for about a year now and looking back, I don't know what I would have done without their help and support. I am very grateful for the assistance they provide and their helpful information during my pregnancy and now that I'm a new mom. While I was pregnant my counselor would teach me how to properly care for my new baby and then explained videos as we watched them together. The videos were a great learning tool because I was able to actually see someone carry out the tasks needed in caring for the baby.

The Marywood staff eased the anxiety I felt as I experienced my first pregnancy. The things I learned from my counselor gave me the confidence and skills I needed to be a good mom. From time to time I also needed help with groceries. The staff at Marywood would invite me to their pantry, where I was able to get the food I needed until I was back on my feet. There were also occasions when I needed support but wasn't able to make it to the Marywood office. My counselor would come to my home to talk to me, which was wonderful because I really enjoy my visits with her.

Now that my daughter is here, I continue to go to Marywood for information that helps me be a better mother. The staff is wonderful and I know that if I ever need anything, I have a place to go where I will be surrounded by people who care for and support me. There is no other place like Marywood! It's one of a kind and I'm very thankful to be a client."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section I of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

Marywood Children and Family Service's Lifeline Program is focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, counseling, and material assistance to pregnant women in need. Marywood has been operating for over 85 years. They are well known within the central area of Austin as a resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations. They have recently opened a second site in the northeast Austin area. Caseworkers develop a monthly plan to follow up with every client according to her needs but with the goal of helping her to become emotionally stable and be more prepared to parent her children.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

The Executive Director shared the story of one of the Home's clients:

Lucia has been at Seton Home for four years, during which time she gave birth to her son, Juan. The only family support she receives comes from her Seton Home family. Lucia has thanked the Seton Home staff countless times and has recently decided to share her experience at the Seton Home Gala. She spoke of how she became a better parent, student, and person thanks to services received at Seton Home. Lucia spoke so eloquently that a former council woman invited her to be an intern for a day at City Hall. Lucia had the opportunity to sit in on meetings and have breakfast and lunch with city officials such as the mayor, the city manager, and other council persons. It was a very exciting and proud moment for Lucia.

Lucia was also recently rewarded with a dinner and a trip to the Tower of Americas for her participation in tutoring.

Lucia's experience at Seton Home has helped her become a mature young woman, a good student, a role model for the other girls at the home, and most importantly, a wonderful and dedicated mother.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies related to reimbursement compliance (Section IV) is deduction.

Seton Home is well known within the immediate and the greater San Antonio area as a resource of housing for young, homeless pregnant women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations. It is also known throughout the State, since it serves clients from all over Texas.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

The Executive Director shared the story of one of the Center's clients in her words:

Recgan came to The Source for Women to confirm her pregnancy. She was 25 years old and had just gotten out of an unhealthy relationship with her boyfriend, who was now incarcerated. Her pregnancy test came back positive. Reagan was afraid and didn't know how she could have a baby without a stable relationship or job. Once she felt her baby move inside her tummy for the first time, Reagan knew she wanted to parent. It would be a difficult road but Reagan believed in herself and in her baby.

Reagan started attending parenting and relationship classes at The Source for Women and soon learned many skills that would help her once her daughter was born. She also discovered what a good, healthy relationship should be like and realized what she wanted for herself and her unborn child.

After Reagan gave birth to her beautiful daughter, Kaylee, she received extra help from The Source for Women with diapers, baby wipes, and clothing. She says this has made a big impact on the amount of money she can save. Reagan continues to come to the center for counseling and parenting classes.

According to Reagan, The Source for Women is a fantastic place to go for help. She admits that at first she was ashamed of her situation but because of the support and encouragement she received from the counselors at the center, she is now proud of her decision and her little girl. Reagan knows that when she stumbles, The Source for Women will be there to help her stay on her feet.

Vi. Conclusion

The corrective action for the missing client file in section III of this report resulted in the deduction of all services reimbursed for the client. The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section I of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

The Source for Women of Houston Northeast Center is focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, counseling and material assistance to pregnant women in need. They are well known in northeast Houston as a resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations.

It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

The Executive Director shared the story of one of the Center's clients:

Lisa went to a local health clinic for contraceptives but instead, left with a positive pregnancy test. Even though the news of her pregnancy was surprising, it still made her smile. Unfortunately, her boyfriend did not share her new-found joy. He pressured her for an immediate termination.

Devastated and deeply hurt by her boyfriend's reaction, Lisa sat staring at the television while she wondered whether or not to have an abortion. Suddenly a commercial that offered assistance to women facing unplanned pregnancies, appeared. After scribbling down the Life Aid phone number, Lisa called and was referred to the Center.

Lisa came to the Center and with the help of a compassionate counselor, was finally able to unload her burden of hurt and fear. The counselor spoke to Lisa about her options and helped her sort through her thoughts and feelings.

Eight months later, Lisa walked through our doors a second time, smiling, and holding a baby girl in her arms. The Center helped her stay on her feet while she was temporarily out of school and work, and supplied her with needed baby items. Lisa is back in college, one semester behind, but as she said, "Madison was worth it."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for deficiencies listed in section II of this report by addressing and rectifying deficiencies prior to the date of this report.

The Downtown Pregnancy Help Center is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need, particularly those located in the busy Midtown and Downtown Houston areas. They are a well known resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations.

The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

One of the services provided by Annunciation Maternity Home (AMH) is the opportunity for a resident to either complete her high school graduation requirements by attending The University of Texas Charter School located on the AMH campus or to complete the requirements for a GED through the Rural Capital Area Workforce Development Board (RCAWDB) program.

Ruth, an 18 year old mother of two beautiful little girls aged 6 months and 22 months, spent months attending the GED preparatory classes and tutoring sessions offered at RCAWDB. After passing all of the GED practice tests with a 90 percent or higher score, she registered to take her official GED tests and passed! After receiving her GED certificate, Ruth said, "Without AMH I would have never received my GED and would have never thought of going to college. I believe I am here for a reason, and if I were not here, my children and I would most likely be homeless. AMH has made me a better mother to my babies."

Ruth now has a part-time job and is working on her transition plan from AMH to independent living with her two daughters. She has applied for and received financial aid so she may continue her education. Ruth plans to attend a local community college to complete a two-year degree program in Addictions Counseling.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies noted in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount.

Annunciation Maternity Home in Georgetown is a maternity home that provides comprehensive services to its residents. Two main educational programs are offered: life skills classes, and middle and high school education (conducted onsite by the University of Texas as a charter school). The Home also provides a unique nutritional education program assisted by the WIC Program.

The Home is well known within the immediate and the greater Georgetown region as a resource for women experiencing challenging, pregnancy and parenting situations.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

Before Jamie came to The Life Center, she explained that her "head was not in the right place." Her relationship with her husband was slowly going downhill. She had just found out she was pregnant with their third child and considering the circumstances, was seriously thinking about getting an abortion. She didn't see the point of bringing another child into an already bad situation.

A friend invited Jamie to go with her to The Life Center. After a few visits, Jamie's thoughts of terminating her pregnancy soon changed and she decided she did not need an abortion. She realized that even though it wouldn't be easy, having her child was the best thing for her, especially with The Life Center's support. Their classes taught Jamie a lot about herself. They also helped to make her relationship with her husband much better. She says, "I don't know where I'd be without The Life Center. Everyone there believed in me, cared about me, and never judged me. The Life Center is an amazing place!"

VI. Conclusion

The Life Center is focused on providing pregnancy assistance, support, education, counseling and material assistance to pregnant women in need. They are well known within the Permian Basin region as a resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations. The Life Center has a wide variety of educational programs, which include such topics as Parenting, Fatherhood, Sexual Health, and Relationships. They have recently opened a new site in nearby Andrews in hopes of assisting even more women.

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

Melissa came to the Center distraught and desperate after having recently told her parents that she was pregnant. She explained that her parents were so livid with her that they berated her with insults. They became even more enraged when they found out the father of Melissa's baby was of a different race. Melissa told the counselor that her parents pressured her to get an abortion in order to keep herself from being cast out of their family. Melissa explained that she didn't want an abortion, but was afraid she had no other choice since her parents were so adamant about what she should do. Melissa asked for advice on how to tell her parents that she wanted to carry and parent her child. The counselor advised Melissa how to respectfully tell them how she felt. Melissa went home and told her parents that she loved them but was not going to have an abortion. Then she invited them to be a part of their new grandchild's life.

Recently, Melissa ran into her counselor while at the doctor's office. Melissa's eyes opened wide and she grabbed the counselor and hugged her. As Melissa embraced her, she whispered into the counselor's ear, "Thank you so much! She's so beautiful! I don't know what I was thinking." Melissa spoke of the positive changes her daughter brought to her world. She also talked about how her parents have evolved into proud and loving grandparents and how they even seek out their granddaughter's attention.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies noted in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount.

The Pregnancy Care Medical Center of Texoma has a wide variety of educational programs that are delivered in-house. Courses include such topics as Parenting Skills, Sexual Health, Car Seat Safety, Childbirth, Nutrition, Adoption, limited Abuse Counseling, and Life Skills.

It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given his consent for his story to be included in this report, and his name has been omitted to protect his privacy.

In the words of a client: "I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude toward the Daddy Boot Camp program, and those who made it possible. My first baby was recently born but as a first time father-to-be, I had many questions before the birth. My wife told me about the class and I immediately wanted to sign up. I called First Choice Pregnancy Resource Center and asked them to reserve a spot for me in the class.

The counselors who lead the Daddy Boot Camp program understand that most first time fathers do not know very much about babies or how to care for them but put their clients at ease by teaching them what they need to know. I learned how to change a diaper, prepare a bath at the proper temperature, how to safely hold a baby, and many other helpful things. The class also gave me a big boost of self confidence by answering all my questions about being a new dad. One lesson that I found particularly helpful was that both my baby and I were going to be experiencing something new that we'd get to go through together. It became important to me that I make every experience with my new baby a happy one. One of the counselors inspired my passion and desire to be a good father and an unselfish leader for my family.

Daddy Boot Camp doesn't just focus on the new dad. I was given valuable advice on how to help my baby's mother. I learned what to expect during her pregnancy, how to lighten her load and make it more enjoyable for her, how to support and help her, and how to recognize signs of Postpartum Depression.

As if learning the valuable information Daddy Boot Camp taught me wasn't enough, I also received "Daddy Dollars," which I used to redeem for diapers, formula, clothes, and toys. Upon completion of the course I received a camouflaged t-shirt that shows everyone I survived Daddy Boot Camp!

The course is a wonderful first step in learning how to take care of your baby and your baby's mother. For a first time father, Daddy Boot Camp lays the foundation for being a good dad."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies noted in sections III and IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for deficiencies listed in section I, II, and III of this report by addressing and rectifying deficiencies prior to the date of this report.

The First Choice Pregnancy Resource Center provides pregnancy assistance, support, education, counseling and material assistance to pregnant women in need. They also provide clients with a wide variety of educational programs that are delivered in-house, covering topics that include parenting, life skills, childbirth, anger management, and relationships.

In the words of a client: "Care Net Pregnancy Center of Central Texas is a wonderful, caring, and loving place to meet new people who soon become like family. Everyone at Care Net wants to help all the mothers and mothers-to-be that walk through their doors. Hove my counselor so much! She's understanding and has given me a new, positive outlook on life.

The staff helped me realize that other girls, just like me, have made it through an unplanned pregnancy and are happy and successful. With their help I learned a lot about myself and my potential. They taught me about babies and how to be a good mother to my child. I've also made friends who are sharing this same experience with me. It's good to be able to talk to girls my age who understand what I'm going through. I have come to the staff with so many of my problems and they always do everything they can to help resolve the situation. It's a great place for mothers to learn and to earn things that will help them care for their children. Care Net is a great place and I will continue to go there for support."

VI. Conclusion

I. Facility

General Observations: Counseling areas, office space, equipment, lavatories, and safety features (including fire extinguishers) were inspected and found to be in compliance. The facility was not equipped with smoke detectors.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that the Center's hours of operation are Monday and Thursday from 9:00 AM to 8:00 PM and Tuesday and Wednesday from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. The Center is closed on Fridays. The Center receives clients by appointment and as walk-ins. The Center has a voicemail system to capture phone calls received outside of office hours.

Pregnancy Resource Center provides all its services free of charge. The Center receives referrals from local schools, hospitals, and other social services agencies. The Center makes referrals to WIC, Texas Workforce Commission, Helping Hands and other social services agencies.

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Program records storage and educational materials were reviewed. Client files were stored in an unlocked file. Although educational materials were stored out of the common area, spiritual materials were not labeled. The Center understood that its contract with TPCN would not become effective until it has a locked file cabinet and separates and labels the spiritual materials.

Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance, Client Non-Discrimination and Standard Release of Information policies were readily available at the Center. Material Safety Data Sheets were not available for review.

Program Highlights

General Observations: Pregnancy Resource Center is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. The Center provides a wide variety of classes on-site. Courses include such topics as parenting skills, life skills, and others.

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a typical case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in the report prior to its enrollment in the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work prior to its participation in the Program. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy. The services described in the Success Story were not provided with Program funds.

Client Success Story in the Director's words:

"Emma" came to us at the PRC of Rockwall to learn more about abortion. Upon calling the PRC she learned that we do not do abortions or refer for them, but that we do have information about how she can continue with her pregnancy. Emma was 16 years old and the father of the baby was 17. Both were high school students and felt that an unplanned pregnancy might hinder their future. Along with a pregnancy test an ultrasound was performed to determine the gestational age as well as the viability of Emma's pregnancy. We then discussed her options including adoption, parenting, and abortion.

Ultimately, Emma decided to carry to term and began to attend weekly classes at the PRC to learn more about pregnancy, childbirth, and parenting. She was able to earn a car seat, a crib, and many other items through our Learn-to-Earn program. She was able to graduate high school, and through referrals given at the PRC received a scholarship for Career Training classes that will certify her as a Medical Technician. Emma has repeatedly thanked the staff of the PRC for supporting while she faced an unplanned pregnancy, and in her words, considers them as her extended family.

IV. Corrective Actions Taken: Smoke detectors and locked file cabinets were installed. Spiritual materials were labeled and separated from educational materials. Material Safety Data Sheets were made available for review.

Client Success Story in the Director's words:

"Deborah" came to the PRC of Mesquite to receive a pregnancy test and information about all of her options, including abortion and parenting. Deborah is a mother of three. Deborah shared her history, which includes becoming a mom at the age of 14 and having a child born premature. In addition, Deborah's boyfriend was not pleased about the pregnancy and wanted nothing to do with this pregnancy.

At the PRC, we were able to share with Deborah important information for her to consider as she made this difficult decision. We talked with Deborah about the fetal development of an 8 week fetus, her approximate gestational age. We also discussed adoption, as Deborah was considering adoption as an option. We talked about abortion as an option as well. Armed with new information and many things to consider, Deborah went home to think things over. A few days later, she contacted us to let us know she decided to carry the baby to term. She felt more hopeful after her visit at the PRC. Deborah plans to utilize our parenting education program during her pregnancy.

IV. Corrective Actions Taken: Smoke detectors and locked file cabinets were installed. Spiritual materials were labeled and separated from educational materials. Material Safety Data Sheets were made available for review.

Client Success Story in the Director's words:

Drugs had controlled "Debbie's" life through two pregnancies. Her children now lived with their father - and he would not allow her to visit them.

Living on the streets, she made the money to buy drugs through prostitution. She learned to detach herself from the men she met, thinking only of the "high" she would earn from the drugs this act would buy her.

One night while high on drugs, she fell into a ditch. Debbie awoke to severe pains in her abdomen that had a strange rhythm. She realized that she was in labor giving birth to a baby alone in a ditch with no medical supplies and no one to help her! The baby was born in what seemed like minutes — a beautiful boy — but he never breathed.

Debbie returned to her life on the streets offering her body for prostitution more often to pay for more drugs so she would not remember what happened in that ditch. Again her stomach started to swell, but this time she was not going to let the baby be born in a ditch.

Debbie remembered a sign about a free pregnancy test, so she went for more than a pregnancy test — Debbie wanted help. The Heidi Group welcomed Debbie and performed the pregnancy test. Yes, she was pregnant, but still living on the streets in a world of drugs.

The Heidi Group staffer told Debbie that they would find a place for her to live. Debbie said she was willing to go to the group home recommended by the Heidi Group. She later moved in with a friend, on the condition that she would not take drugs. The combination of counseling with The Heidi Group staff, parenting classes, and the mentorship of her Heidi Group counselor, Debbie was able to give up drugs.

Debbie was determined to have this baby in a hospital. The Heidi Group social worker explained how and where she would have the baby in a safe environment.

A beautiful baby girl was born and Debbie moved into an apartment with the man she believed to be the father of the baby. The Heidi Group team counseled the father of the baby and Debbie as they adjusted to a new life as parents. A new crib was provided. Debbie earned a layette by attending classes. On-going relationship classes helped with their new lives as parents. Debbie came to The Heidi Group for computer skills training, bringing the baby with her. As she adjusted to her wonderful life as a mother, she counted the days she had been off drugs as "sober". Debbie now has a job a receptionist, and is still working with The Heidi Group team.

It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Bailey is a mother of three young and vibrant boys. In addition to the normal challenges many moms face, she is also challenged to find time for herself and individual time with each of her children. Pregnancy Help Center of Lufkin helps Bailey to be a better mom by assisting her with the daily struggles she encounters and answering her questions on being a good parent. Bailey believes that having someone she can trust to help her and talk with, about anything, is the most essential help she receives from the staff at the center. When asked to describe herself she said, 'I am a mom – one of the greatest things I dreamed of being.'

Bailey is looking for a job and continuing her quest for a four year degree. She has already equipped herself with an associate's degree but hopes to complete her bachelor's degree within the next three years. Once she graduates, she hopes to pursue her dream job of helping children and families by becoming a Family Advocate. She knows working full time, parenting full time, and attending school part time is a big goal but believes that with the help and support of the Pregnancy Help Center of Lufkin, she will accomplish it for not only herself, but also her three boys."

Vi. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section II of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

Pregnancy Help Center of Lufkin is focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, counseling, and material assistance to pregnant women in need. They are well known within the area as a resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy and parenting situations.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"In the summer of 2008 Jamie walked into Living Alternatives of Jacksonville looking to get an abortion. She explained that she had taken a home pregnancy test, which turned out positive, and that she didn't want the baby. She took another pregnancy test while at the center and it too came back positive.

As we continued to talk, Jamie really opened up to me. She felt that abortion was her only option because she was in her second year of college, still living at home, and didn't want her parents to know she was pregnant. Her relationship with them was already very fragile because they often disagreed with Jamie's decisions. We discussed the disappointment her parents might feel but also the support they might offer.

We discussed fetal development, which Jamie took great interest in. I shared information about local resources (such as the Department of Health and Human Services and WIC) that provide assistance to pregnant women. We talked about maternity homes that provide housing and other assistance she could receive during the pregnancy. When we spoke about the option of adoption, Jamie shared that she was an adopted child. She never thought placing for adoption would be an option for her but asked for additional information. I explained that she could select the adoptive family that she wanted to raise her child.

We continued to talk about her options for most of that afternoon. Before she left the center she asked me to accompany her as she told her parents about the pregnancy. I agreed and met her and her parents the next day. They were disappointed when Jamie told them she was pregnant but took an active role in discussing her options. After consulting with her family, Jamie decided that she would place her baby for adoption.

When Jamie learned she was carrying a little girl, she invited me to go shopping with her. She was really excited to purchase a few items that her baby could remember her by. She bought a stuffed animal, a beautiful blanket, and an outfit for her baby to wear home from the hospital.

The following months were an emotional roller coaster for Jamie. She cried as she told me about the first time she felt the baby move. It made her wonder how she ever even thought about having an abortion. Sometimes Jamie had second thoughts. She wondered if she should parent instead of placing for adoption. Sometimes she expressed she was afraid she wouldn't have the strength to go through with her adoption plan. We'd discuss her options again and before we'd hang up, she'd always decide that she wanted to stick with her adoption plan.

Stress at home finally forced Jamie to move into a maternity home. She adjusted well to her new living arrangements but had a difficult time being away from her friends and family. The maternity home she was staying at was quite a distance away, so visiting was difficult. We still communicated by phone, discussing topics such as the prospective adoptive parents and questions she should ask them.

Finally she found a couple that had been trying to conceive for years. They had suffered through the heartache of numerous miscarriages and stillbirths. Adoption was their only hope of ever being parents.

Jamie went into labor the week before Mother's Day. The adoptive parents agreed to an open adoption and were there when Jamie gave birth. After she and her baby girl, Cara, were released from the hospital, they all went to a local facility and had a beautiful adoption ceremony. The proud new father is a photographer and took many wonderful pictures of everyone with the new baby at the hospital and at the adoption ceremony.

Jamie stayed at the maternity home a few weeks longer to receive additional counseling and then returned home. She also went back to college to complete her degree. She comes by the center to visit and tell me about her life. She often reminds me that had she not came to our Pregnancy Help Center and been informed of her adoption options, Cara would not be here.

Jamie says it's often difficult for her to not be in Cara's life right now but she knows she gave her daughter the best opportunity for a loving and stable home."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section II of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

Living Alternatives of Jacksonville is a much needed resource in the small community of Jacksonville. It is well known throughout the area and local schools as a resource for providing education, pregnancy support, and material assistance to pregnant women in need.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

The Executive Director shared the story of one of the Center's clients in her words:

My name is "Karen" and I want to share my story. I have no insurance and had missed my monthly cycle. I had heard the Hope Center could tell me if I was pregnant for free. I will never forget that day having a stranger tell me I was going to have a baby. See I already have a thirteen year old and didn't want a baby. Me, a thirty year old with no education and a thirteen year old already. I fell to my knees in tears. I did not want a baby, but the lady in the room had a great spirit about her. This lady I didn't even know helped me know I could do it even if in my mind I thought I couldn't.

To be honest, I was headed to the nearest clinic to abort. I wasn't a good mom to my first child. I was young and selfish.

The lady from the Hope Center's words stayed in my mind and in my heart strongly! Sometime in August 2008, I made an appointment with a clinic to abort my unborn child. I thought I just couldn't have another baby.

I drove to the abortion clinic with a heavy heart, I even got to the waiting room and all I could think about was the lady's words in the small room at the Hope Center. I left the clinic that day in tears. I just couldn't give up for some reason; this was my chance to be a mom again — a real mom. I knew it wasn't going to be easy and the hard times had just begun but I had my baby.

In February 2009 I got an invite to a baby shower given by the Hope Center. I knew I had to go just to see the lady that saved my unborn son's life. The day after the baby shower, I gave birth to my son. I can never explain how I felt that day to be a mom again. I kept remembering the words of the lady. She believed in me so I knew I could do it. My son is now six months old and I am in love with him.

I am still without a job, but I have him and he makes me want to be a better person. The Hope Center and its members have been there for me and given me confidence to work hard for my son.

There is no ending to my story yet for I feel it has just begun. I just hope and pray that I can be the mom that the lady told me I could be. There is no looking back now. My son needs a mom so now I just have to walk through all the doors that have opened for me. Thanks to the Hope Center, I never made it to the abortion table.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies noted in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of reimbursed amount.

Hope Women's Resource Clinic is focused on providing pregnancy assistance, support, education, counseling and material assistance to pregnant women in need. V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

The Director shared the story of one of their clients:

A worker received a call from a hospital stating that a woman had given birth to a baby boy and she wanted to place the baby for adoption. The worker visited the birth mom who stated she was not in a place in her life where she could provide for a baby's needs. The birth mom stated she wanted to finish college and start a career. The birth mom felt supported by Catholic Charities because she had recently moved to Texas and had little support. She was not sure to whom or where to turn. She stated that because she made an adoption plan through Catholic Charities, this adoption experience offered her many options such as counseling prior to deciding on placement and post-placement grief counseling through individual birth parent counseling and group support. Being able to select and meet the adoptive family, naming the baby, determining how much contact she wanted with the baby while in the hospital, and the option of having a placement ceremony were also beneficial. She was very happy with the family she chose to parent her child and this was confirmed after meeting them at the adoptive placement ceremony. The birth mother is also comforted knowing that because Catholic Charities provided the adoption services, there will always be a link to the adoptive family should they ever lose touch at some point through the years. She expressed that Catholic Charities listened to her when she decided she was not ready to parent and did not judge her. This allowed for her to make a safe and loving choice that she felt was best for the child.

VI. Conclusion

The corrective actions for the deficiencies noted in section IV of this report resulted in deduction of the reimbursed amount.

Catholic Charities of Galveston-Houston, Children & Family Services Division is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, support, education, counseling and material assistance to pregnant women in need. *Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director: "When 18 year old Claire first came to the Gabriel Project Life Center in May 2008, she was 12 weeks pregnant and very upset. Claire explained that she recently lost her job and shortly after becoming pregnant, had broken up with her boyfriend. She lived in a small apartment with her mom and several of her siblings, nieces and nephews. She felt she had no support from her family or the baby's father and didn't know how she could provide for her baby. The Gabriel Project Life Center consultant listened to Claire's concerns and provided the support she was desperately seeking. During Claire's first visit she set goals for herself and received maternity clothes and baby items.

Over the next six months, Claire continued to come to the Life Center to take childbirth classes, nutrition classes, and others that educated her on how to care for her newborn. Through the classes, Claire earned enough credits to select a portable crib and a swing for her baby. She and her consultant often discussed her troubled family relationships and financial difficulties and how to overcome both of them. They also discussed her goals at each visit, which included going back to school, being a good mom, being independent and recording at least one positive event in her journal each day. Claire continued receiving maternity clothes and baby items throughout her pregnancy.

Claire gave birth to a beautiful baby girl in November. Since then, her relationships with her mom and siblings have improved and she feels confident in her ability to be a good mother for her daughter. In January she celebrated the achievement of two of the goals she had set the previous summer; she found an apartment for her and her daughter and she returned to school."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in sections III and IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Family Care Connection (FCC) provided services to a 14 year old teen named Brenda. She lived with her parents and siblings and this was her first pregnancy. She was afraid and she lacked support from both her family and the father of the baby. Brenda had initially considered abortion but didn't have the resources and could not overcome her fear of the procedure. She was referred to FCC by a medical clinic for case management and support and for referral services. Neither Brenda nor her parents were knowledgeable of the many resources and community services that were available to them.

The initial assessment revealed Brenda was eight months pregnant and until recently, had not received prenatal care. The FCC social worker provided case management to both the teen parent and her family and worked to restore communication between Brenda and her parents, who no longer trusted her. Brenda felt as though they no longer accepted or loved her. The situation finally improved once the social worker assisted them in developing healthy communication skills.

The FCC social worker provided and discussed literature and DVDs on pregnancy, nutrition, positive parenting, breast feeding, immunizations, basic infant care, crib safety, well baby check ups, shaken baby syndrome, SIDS, and procedures for filing for child support. The social worker arranged for Brenda to participate in the local school district's home bound program so that she could continue her education and assisted her in applying for Medicaid and WIC. Thanks to the referrals made by the social worker, Brenda received a layette that included all the items she would need for her newborn baby. After she gave birth, the social worker met with Brenda and her parents both at the hospital and their home to encourage good parenting skills, instill confidence in the new mom, educate them all on postpartum depression and give them information on places to go for help.

Thanks to the help that Brenda received from her FCC social worker, she has strengthened the relationship with her family and has gained their support for her and her baby. She continued her education without losing credits and once the time was right, returned to school. She is confident in her ability to parent effectively and complete her education. The baby's well-being has greatly improved because he was born into a family that was prepared to love, care and provide for him. He is more likely to thrive both physically and emotionally because his environment is appropriate for child rearing and because his mother is better prepared for parenthood. The provision of parent education, resources and community ties reduce the likelihood that he'll be abused, increases the fulfillment of his basic needs, reduces familial stress, increases parent-child attachment and parental feelings of competence and confidence. Overall, the child's well being was accomplished."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount.

Family Care Connection is heavily focused on providing in-home crisis counseling, parent education, and counseling to pregnant and parenting women in need. Support is offered through case management, referrals and educational programs.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Khloe first visited Gladney Center for Adoption in January 2009 to learn more about the adoption process for herself and her unborn child. She was due to give birth in less than a month. Initially she planned to parent her child but then after a series of unfortunate events, she was seriously considering adoption.

Khloe and her boyfriend, the father of the baby, were very happy when they realized she was pregnant. They were living together, had a good relationship, and were excited about becoming parents and starting a family. Suddenly, Khloe's boyfriend became very aggressive toward her. He became abusive and out of fear for her and the baby's safety, she called authorities to their home on two different occasions. Eager to get out of the dangerous situation, Khloe sought refuge by staying with one of her friends. She worried when thinking about her and her baby's future. She wasn't financially stable and no longer had a supportive father for her baby. She was afraid that she wouldn't be able to provide a good future for her baby so she decided to consider the option of placing her baby for adoption.

Two weeks after meeting with an admissions worker at Gladney, Khloe turned in her initial paperwork and was assigned a caseworker. Before the caseworker could schedule a visit with her, Khloe gave birth to a little boy. She named him Will. Her caseworker visited her in the hospital and she confessed her struggle in deciding whether to parent or to place for adoption. When Khloe was discharged from the hospital she placed Will in transitional care with Gladney but was not yet fully ready to relinquish her rights. Over the next several weeks she and the caseworker often discussed the pros and cons of both parenting and adoption. She began to show symptoms of depression and admitted that she had been diagnosed with depression and anxiety in the past but could no longer afford counseling or medication. Khloe's caseworker immediately referred her to a therapist in the area that accepted Medicaid and billed on an income based sliding scale.

After much thought, Khloe chose and met Will's adoptive parents. She relinquished her parental rights about six weeks after Will's birth and he was placed with his adoptive parents two weeks later.

It's been a long and difficult journey for Khloe but she continues to work her parttime job and with the help of a scholarship from Gladney, plans to attend cosmetology school. She continues to receive grief and loss counseling from Gladney and seeks emotional support from other Gladney birthmothers. Khloe feels that even though it was difficult to relinquish her parental rights, she made the best decision for Will."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount.

Gladney Center for Adoption is a nationwide leader in adoption services. They've assisted more than 36,000 birthmothers and have created over 22,000 families throughout their century long history. The Fort Worth campus is approximately 17 acres and includes a dorm that can accommodate up to 30 clients. Through their residential program, they are able to meet the client's needs during the pregnancy, adoption placement as well as post-adoption services.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy. In the words of the Executive Director:

"Melanie first called the office stating that she was six weeks pregnant and wanted an abortion. The mentor asked her if the pregnancy had been confirmed and if not, would she be willing to go in for a pregnancy test. Melanie agreed to do so and was seen the following day. She shared that she had an abortion at 18 and did not "really want to do this again." However, because of several issues such as her depression as a teen, financial difficulties, and an unstable relationship with the father of the baby, she did not think she had any other alternatives. She already had more bills than her salary covered.

The pregnancy test was positive. She was counseled and given the booklet "A Woman's Right to Know." When the mentor called to follow-up, Melanie told her that while she was sitting in the abortion clinic waiting room she changed her mind about the abortion and left.

Baby Ernest was born on March 13th and Melanie could not be happier. She is no longer with the father of her baby but has filed for child support. She found great support from A Woman's Haven during her pregnancy, during her separation from her baby's father, and now as a single mom. Her mentor most recently assisted her with developing a manageable budget and connecting with community resources where she can obtain low-cost or no-cost food, clothing and supplemental formula. Although Melanie still encounters the occasional struggle, she is grateful for her beautiful baby boy and is confident in herself as a good, loving mom."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiencies listed in sections I and III of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

A Woman's Haven has been in operation for 35 years and iswell known in the San Antonio area for providing pregnancy assistance, education, counseling, and material assistance to pregnant women in need.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Sixteen year old Greg called Pregnancy Resources of Abilene (PRA) to say that his mother, Grace, believed she was pregnant. He explained that his mother didn't speak English so he had to translate for her. He said she was very afraid and felt like she was too old to have a baby. She had taken a home pregnancy test, which was positive, and didn't know what to do next. After our services were explained to Greg, he and Grace scheduled an appointment for that same day.

Greg translated Grace's words as she explained her situation. She was 38 years old, had been married for 20 years, Greg was their youngest child, and she thought she could never become pregnant again. She had concerns about being pregnant at 38 and worried that her home test gave her a false positive. She took another pregnancy test during her appointment, which confirmed her pregnancy. As we discussed the concerns she had about her new pregnancy, Grace began to feel much more at ease. We offered her a free ultrasound; she excitedly accepted. We talked about fetal development, how to have a healthy pregnancy, and local resources that would assist her with prenatal care.

Grace's sister accompanied her for the ultrasound. The pictures revealed an 11 week old baby with normal development. They were amazed to hear the baby's strong heartbeat and see its waving arms.

As our relationship with Greg and Grace grew stronger, they shared that Greg had Leukemia. Recently, the Make-A-Wish foundation had offered them a family vacation to Disney world and they were scheduled to go within the next two months. Grace was worried she'd be unable to find a doctor that would fit her in for an appointment before their trip so we eased her anxiety by giving her many referrals to local resources that would help her acquire prenatal care.

Greg recently thanked the staff at PRA for guiding them to helpful resources and for assisting his mother when he didn't know how. Grace now has confidence in herself and is excited about the addition to their family."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section II of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

Pregnancy Resources of Abilene is well known within the area for providing pregnancy assistance and counseling, sonograms, and sexually transmitted disease testing and awareness. A large number of their clientele are high school or college students, which enables Pregnancy Resources of Abilene to raise awareness and to educate on pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases. They have been in operation for 27 years and serve as a much needed resource in the area.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been omitted to protect her privacy.

In the words of a San Antonio Birth Doula:

"When Tiffany first learned what a doula was, she was a little skeptical about having one. She didn't like the idea of a stranger being so deeply involved throughout her pregnancy and labor. She was confident she'd be able to handle everything on her own.

During Tiffany's pregnancy, she was often exposed to the idea of having a professional labor support person to assist her in preparing for childbirth and going through labor. She attended a childbirth class, taught by a doula, and learned about different birthing options. She learned about comfort measures during labor and received information on different childbirth procedures. She soon developed a birth plan that was tailored to her wants and needs. Tiffany also had the opportunity to sit through a doula training to see all the ways in which doulas support their clients.

Even with all of the information Tiffany had received about doulas, she still opted against working with one because she felt she was educated enough to go through labor without help. She was told that if at any time she changed her mind, there would be a doula ready to assist her.

The day before her baby was due, Tiffany was admitted to the hospital because she began to experience low amniotic fluid levels. The doctors decided it would be best to induce labor the next morning. When she called to inform me about what was going on, I could tell from her voice that she was very anxious and nervous about the following morning. To help her cope we went over her birth plan and her main goals for labor.

Several hours after Tiffany was induced, she began to feel labor pains. I arrived at her hospital room as she began another contraction when. I helped her out of bed and instructed her to put all of her weight on my shoulders. Then we slow danced for the entire 60 second contraction. When it was over, Tiffany opened her eyes and said, "Wow, I forgot I could get out of bed. That felt so much better!" Thereafter, every time Tiffany felt a contraction coming on, she'd jump out of bed, put her arms around my shoulders, and start swaying. She was asked to stay in the bed during a few of her contractions so we'd experiment with different positions she found comfortable. The distraction of coming up with a new position was enough to help her cope with the pain.

The hospital staff informed her that an epidural would be the best way to ensure a safe delivery. Afraid of what might happen to her baby, Tiffany agreed to the epidural. I assisted her in getting into the proper position and breathed with her through the next contractions. As soon as the epidural was administered, the nurse checked Tiffany and said she was ready to begin the delivery. They said her moving around and getting into different positions had helped her labor progress quickly. I invited Tiffany's mom, who had arrived shortly after the epidural was given, to help Tiffany get into a good pushing position. Tiffany was so excited to have her mother participate in the birth. Together, Tiffany's mom and I coached Tiffany through the delivery. Soon, baby Nicholas was born.

Once Nicholas was checked and swaddled, Tiffany was able to breastfeed. I helped her find a comfortable way to hold her baby and talked her though getting him to latch on. We struggled a bit in the beginning but 10 months later, Tiffany and baby Nicholas are still happily breastfeeding.

Tiffany enjoys sharing her birth story with others and recommends a doula to every pregnant woman she knows."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section III and IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiencies listed in section III of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

The San Antonio Birth Doulas are heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, post partum support, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. Their services are mainly delivered where their clients are located, to better assist those that may have transportation difficulty or other limitations. One of their programs, called Project Post Partum, provides post partum visits to the new mother's home. The doula aids her in organizing her schedule and becoming acclimated to her new role as a mom. Doulas discuss healthy habits and assist the mother in bonding with the new baby. Post partum depression is assessed by the doula and if needed, appropriate resources are utilized to protect both the mother and her baby.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Stella discovered she was pregnant at the age of 31. The relationship with her boyfriend wasn't working and she couldn't depend on him so she called Guadalupe Home for a place to live. She said she wasn't sure she could do 'the mom thing' and that if she had her baby, she could no longer expect to live with her sister. Stella admitted that she had an addiction and that the baby's father would in no be way involved.

Once she moved into Guadalupe Home, Stella spent a lot of time with the other moms and their babies. She really began to open up and often shared her concerns. Her biggest fear was that she wouldn't bond with her baby the way the other mothers in the house bonded with theirs. We explained that many residents have this fear but that once the baby is born the bonding begins and strengthens with each day. Stella really embraced her pregnancy and never gave up on herself. She complied with the rules of the Home and began seeking out her own resources, knowing that she had a lot to do if she was going to raise her child and provide a home for him.

Stella encountered a very serious and challenging event that almost resulted in her being asked to leave Guadalupe Home. Staff advocated for Stella and quickly saw a dramatic change in how she was preparing for the birth of her baby. Things finally became clear for Stella and she realized that she could no longer continue with her old, negative ways. She kept busy by nesting and beautifully decorating her room. She coordinated her bedding to match the crib bedding and soon her and her baby's room was fully decorated in Winnie the Pooh.

Soon Stella gave birth to a baby boy. She named him Logan. When she came back to Guadalupe Home from the hospital, she conquered her biggest fear by bonding with her son. She carried on lengthy conversations with this new little person and once he was a few days old, she'd sit on the floor and read to him. She couldn't take her eyes off of him. He had won her heart by simply being.

Stella plans to attend a medical subscription school, volunteer her time at the Food Bank, and recently has been interviewing daycares for Logan. She updates staff on her progress and whether Logan reacts positively or negatively when they walk into each prospective day care center. They're making their way together.

Stella takes life one day at a time, knowing she has a new chance. She's determined to make it work this time and has a completely new focus in her life. Everything isn't all about her anymore; now there's Logan. Stella has become a true example of a devoted and loving mother."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount,

Guadalupe Home is a maternity residence for homeless, pregnant women. Residents at the home are taught to become responsible, self-sufficient, loving mothers and are educated on important life skills that help them transition to independent living. Guadalupe Home provides pregnancy support, materials assistance, and education on topics such as fetal development, budgeting skills, decision making, nutrition, abuse, and stress management.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"At age 35, Alyssa found herself pregnant and in an abusive relationship. Her boyfriend was involved with a gang, rarely had a job, and verbally and physically abused her. One day she found the courage to leave the relationship. Pregnant, homeless, and experiencing serious health issues, she sought help from Our Lady of the Angels Maternity Shelter.

Alyssa arrived at our door looking for support and a safe place to stay for her and her unborn baby. She had a great deal of emotional issues that she had never dealt with. She found great comfort in having someone listen to her concerns, to help her deal with her emotions. Through one-on-one talks with her counselors, Alyssa learned how to move on from the negativity she had experienced with her ex-boyfriend. She has set goals for herself and has learned how to manage her anger. For the first time in a long while, she was able to let go of the past and move toward a good future. Most importantly, she is equipped with the knowledge and confidence to be a good mother."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiencies listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount and nonpayment for services.

Our Lady of the Angels Maternity Shelter focuses on providing pregnancy support, education, life skills, and shelter for pregnant and/or parenting homeless women. They provide referrals and material assistance to all pregnant and/or parenting women in need.

V. Client Success Story

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in this report since it joined the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy.

In the words of a Social Worker at The Heidi Group:

"Isabel was 23 years old and experiencing her first pregnancy when she initially visited The Heidi Group. We immediately saw how excited she was about this new stage in her life. She had a natural desire to learn all she could about her developing baby. Isabel shared that regardless how excited she was about the pregnancy, one thought always entered her mind and brought her down. She was deeply saddened that her ex-boyfriend, the father of her baby, wouldn't be part of their baby's life. They had been in a long term relationship but he distanced himself when he found out she was pregnant. Isabel explained that even though she was excited about being a mom, she couldn't escape the fact that she didn't have a job or support from her family or ex-boyfriend. We assured her that The Heidi Group would support and assist her. Isabel certainly took us up on our offer. She has a high level of curiosity and asked for information and resources on many topics, such as pregnancy, labor, and baby care. Isabel showed much interest in breastfeeding and always asked many questions. She enjoyed her visits to The Heidi Group so much that she even brought her visiting mother to an appointment. She also offered to volunteer at The Heidi Group!

Isabel faced an unplanned pregnancy and managed to find the courage to not only continue with the pregnancy, but to thrive as an expecting mother. We are honored to have played a part in helping her have a healthy baby and be a wonderful mother."

VI. Conclusion

The corrective action for deficiency listed in section IV of this report resulted in the deduction of the reimbursed amount. The Service Provider completed the corrective action for the deficiency listed in section II of this report by addressing and rectifying it prior to the date of this report.

The Heidi Group is located within close proximity to public transportation and is in a high needs area. It has long been well known as a valuable resource for providing education, pregnancy support, and material assistance to pregnant women in need.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Emma was only 16 when we met her. She had dealt with many hardships throughout her life. She grew up watching her mother abuse drugs and engage in prostitution. She battled her own drug addiction to methamphetamine but sought help from rehab and now, no longer uses.

She was living with her former boyfriend, a known drug dealer, when she came to the Pregnancy Resource Center (PRC) for a pregnancy test. The test confirmed she was pregnant. Emma decided that this was the time to turn her life around and work on her and her baby's future. She moved in with her grandparents, who provide her with a safe environment, food, transportation, and much needed support. She took the GED test and is learning to drive.

Emma attends classes at the PRC to learn about healthy pregnancy and fetal development. She has learned how to properly care for herself and her baby and has received information on parenting. Emma receives emotional support and encouragement to accomplish her goals. She often thanks the staff at the PRC for the assistance she's received and continues to take all opportunities available to prepare for her role as a good and loving mother."

I. Facility

General Observations: Counseling areas, office space, equipment, lavatories, and safety features were inspected and found to be in compliance. The facility was not equipped with smoke detectors, two fire extinguishers were overdue for inspection, and a "No Smoking" sign needed to be posted.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that the hours of operation are Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and closed on Friday.

Pregnancy Help Center of Williamson County (PHC) provides all of its services free of charge. They receive referrals from local schools, pastors, and WIC. They make referrals to local food pantries, adoption agencies, maternity homes, and other social service agencies.

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance and Standard Release of Information policies and forms are readily available at the center. Material Safety Data Sheets were also on file. Client confidentiality was a concern due to the windows in the waiting room. Wooden blinds covered the windows but were completely open. As a precaution to protect client confidentiality, TPCN requested that blinds be only partially opened. PHC agreed to TPCN's request and explained that the windows were tinted, which made it virtually impossible for a passerby to see inside the facility.

Program record storage was reviewed and found to be in compliance. Educational materials had not yet been labeled or separated from non-spiritual materials.

IV. Program Highlights

General Observations: Pregnancy Help Center of Williamson County is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. They provide on site classes which cover topics such as parenting skills, nutrition, and breast feeding.

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a typical case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in the report prior to its enrollment in the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work prior to its participation in the Program. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy. The services described in the Success Story were not provided with Program funds.

In the words of the Executive Director:

"Holly should have spent the day shopping for a homecoming dress with her mom. Instead, she sat in our counseling room, shaking and sobbing uncontrollably. Her pregnancy test was positive.

'I'm getting an abortion. Tell me where I can go to get an abortion!' she said. Holly became hysterical as she slowly processed the enormity of it all. She frantically explained that she couldn't have a baby because her boyfriend could lose his college scholarship and that their parents would never speak to them again.

While Holly was in the counseling room with the client advocate, her boyfriend, Casey, sat in my office. Just a few short weeks ago he had the world at his feet but at that moment it all slowly began to unravel. He had a great deal of concern for his girlfriend. He asked if Holly was okay and when he'd be able to join her in the counseling room. I told him it would be just a few minutes, since she had requested some time alone with her client advocate. Casey continued in disbelief, telling me that he had just gotten a college scholarship and that he'd be starting classes in a few months. He then asked me to explain their options for the pregnancy.

Just one closed door away, Holly sat with her client advocate discussing her options to place for adoption, parent, or abort.

They requested to speak with a social worker from an adoption agency so I scheduled one to come to the center that afternoon. They began to look at all of their choices, not just abortion. They realized they did have some control of the situation. Before they left we told them to take some time to think, talk to their parents, and then make their decision. A week later, we heard back from Holly and Casey. They had spoken with their families and had decided to parent.

Holly often came to the center for our parenting classes. She really embraced her pregnancy and did as much as she could to enlighten herself and prepare for her new role as a mother. Casey frequently came home from college to be with Holly and their unborn baby. She was so proud of him and how well he was doing in school.

Eight months after meeting Casey and Holly, their daughter arrived.

Holly continues to visit our center. She often brings her baby to show us how much their little girl has grown from the last time she stopped by. She's always excited to share her and Casey's plans for the future. He comes home as often as he can on the weekends and is taking extra classes so he can finish his degree in three years instead of four. Holly recently shared that once she graduates high school she'll continue her education to become a dental hygienist. Both she and Casey are eager to finish school and continue planning for a bright future with their beautiful little girl."

V. Corrective Actions Taken: A "No Smoking" sign has been displayed and fire extinguishers have recently been inspected. Smoke detectors have been installed and spiritual materials have been labeled and are separated from non-spiritual materials.

I. Facility

General Observations: Counseling areas, office space, equipment, lavatories, and safety features were inspected and found to be in compliance. One fire extinguisher was overdue for inspection and a "No Smoking" sign needed to be posted.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that the hours of operation are Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Austin LifeCare provides all of its services free of charge. They receive most referrals from local clinics. They make referrals to WIC, Medicaid, SafePlace, and other social services agencies.

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance and Standard Release of Information policies and forms are readily available at the center. The site stores Material Safety Data Sheets at the front desk. The Client Non-Discrimination policy had not yet been posted where it could be easily viewed by clients. Contact information needed to be added to the Client Grievance policy.

Program record storage and educational materials were reviewed. Client files were stored in open shelving in an unlocked room. Although educational materials were stored in an area that is only accessible to staff, spiritual materials had not yet been labeled. Austin LifeCare understands that its Service Provider Agreement with TPCN will not be effective until client files are in a secured, locked area and spiritual materials are labeled and separated.

IV. Program Highlights

General Observations: Austin LifeCare is heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. They provide on-site classes which cover topics such as childbirth education and parenting skills. A public transportation stop is located directly in front of the Austin LifeCare building, making services easily accessible for those with limited transportation.

The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy. The services described in the Success Story were not provided with Program funds.

In the words of the client:

"About two years ago I went to Austin LifeCare for a pregnancy test. When I learned I was pregnant, I thought I had no choice but to have an abortion. My situation was desperate. I was alone with very little money and worst of all, I had been using drugs. My counselor at Austin LifeCare provided information about abortion procedures, adoption and assistance that would be available, should I choose to parent my child. She also offered a free ultrasound. I told her I would think about it and call her back.

One night I began having severe stomach pains. I went to the ER and they performed an ultrasound. When I saw the baby growing inside me, I realized that this pregnancy wasn't just about me. I went back to LifeCare and they helped me by providing maternity clothes, childbirth classes, referrals to social service agencies, and a PAL, one of their volunteers, to be a supportive friend that I so desperately needed.

I ultimately decided that placing my baby for adoption was the best option for both me and my child. LifeCare recommended an adoption agency and I selected the couple that I wanted to parent my baby. A few days after I gave birth to my son, I placed him in the arms of his adoptive parents at a beautiful ceremony. It was the most difficult thing I've ever done but I know it was the best choice for my son. The adoptive parents agreed to an open adoption which means I have contact with them and our baby.

Since placing my son for adoption, I began an education program and completed my G.E.D. and a medical training course. I am now enrolled in a local college, studying to be a sonographer.

I am so grateful to Austin LifeCare for giving me hope during my moment of desperation. Thanks to their help, I know that both me and my son have bright futures."

V. Corrective Actions Taken: A "No Smoking" sign has been displayed and fire extinguishers have recently been inspected. The Non-Discrimination policy has been posted and contact information was added to the Client Grievance policy. Spiritual materials have been labeled and are separated from nonspiritual materials. Client files remain in open shelving but a self-locking, keyless entry system has been installed on the door	of the file room to ensure that only staff with the keyless entry code has access	to the mes.

II. Program Profile

General Observations: It was determined through interviews that the Center and Clinic's hours of operation are Monday through Thursday from 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM. They are closed on Friday. They receive clients by appointment and as walk-ins. They have voicemail to manage calls after hours.

Both the Clinic and Center provide all services free of charge. They receive referrals from local schools, hospitals, and other social service agencies. They make referrals to WIC, Medicaid, Health Department, physicians, Center of Hope, and other social services agencies.

III. Corporate Administration

General Observations: Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance, Client Non-Discrimination and Standard Release of Information policies were readily available at the Clinic but were not readily available. Material Safety Data Sheets are stored for ready reference. Spiritual materials were not marked or separated from non-spiritual materials.

Program Highlights

General Observations: The Options Clinic for Women and Grace House Pregnancy Care Center are heavily focused on providing pregnancy assistance, education, and counseling to pregnant women in need. They are well known within their community as a resource for women experiencing challenging pregnancy situations.

They provide educational information through one-on-one counseling/mentoring.

*Note: The following paragraphs describe a typical case successfully managed by the Service Provider evaluated in the report prior to its enrollment in the Texas Alternative to Abortion Services Program. It is shared for the limited purpose of illustrating the quality and scope of the Service Provider's work prior to its participation in the Program. The client has given her consent for her story to be included in this report, and her name has been changed to protect her privacy. The services described in the Success Story were not provided with Program funds.

Client Success Story in the Executive Director's words:

Nine months ago, a very scared, confused young lady called the Options Clinic – she was seeking information on an abortion. The phone counselor asked her several questions and scheduled an appointment. Her necessity for terminating this pregnancy was fueled by her twin girls who were 10 months old. She had determined that another girl in the mix would just be too much, but that a little boy would be loved and accepted without question. When she arrived at the clinic that Tuesday, she filled out the necessary paper work, and again indicated that her intentions were to terminate the pregnancy.

Even after initial counseling and even an ultrasound, she had the same resolve she came in with – an abortion was her only option. She continued to share with the counselor/mentor that the father of the baby was abusive and did not want a baby, much less another girl. She was holding on to that perceived truth and was all she could think about. She wanted to do what was best for this man, not what was best for her and the baby. She left with no resolution and more questions. She was encouraged to call or come back, but no appointment was scheduled.

She scheduled a second visit. On this visit she was given the opportunity, again, to research options with the counselor. The intention was to provide every opportunity for this young lady to be well informed.

March 9, 2009, we found out that she had made a very courageous decision – one that most certainly affected many more lives than her own. She chose to place her baby in the loving and anxious arms of a young couple wanting desperately to love, nurture, and care for a baby they could not have on their own. Our purpose was to engage her in a trusting relationship and love her just where she was, to educate her with options, and to empower her to make the best decision for herself, her twin girls, and this baby.

IV. Corrective Actions Taken: Spiritual materials were subsequently labeled and separated from non-spiritual materials. Copies of the Confidentiality, Grievance, Client Non-Discrimination and Standard Release of Information policies were made accessible to all staff.
