Austin's Urban Forestry Board is seeking to engage the community to develop Austin's first comprehensive Urban Forest Plan. This plan will help shape and protect the future of Austin's urban forest. Join the discussion online, or attend the August 13th workshop and help determine the priorities and needs of Austin's urban forest.

If you're not able to attend the workshop please make your voice heard through the online discussion forum and through the surveys on the Urban Forest Plan webpage. Equal weight will be given to online contributions and workshop contributions. The benefit of attending this workshop and open house is the opportunity to talk to Urban Forestry Board members, the City's Urban Forester, and fellow community members.
