Additional Backup Information

This system provides the department with a mechanism to provide complete tuberculosis case management, including surveillance, patient care, contact management, and drug treatment plans for patients. This system also provides numerous reports which are critical to the department's overall public health efforts.

This new contract will provide for an enhancement to the current CDCIS system. This enhancement will enable the department to record additional data elements required by the State of Texas and to process hand-written forms automatically through optical character recognition software called Teleform.

CIMS Global Technology Solutions, Huntsville, AL, is the developer and sole owner of the CDCIS system and is the only company able to directly integrate the Teleform system into the CIMS system currently in use by HHSD.
