DEMOLITION AND RELOCATION PERMITS
HDP-2013-0578
92 N. IH-35

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1899 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, rectangular-plan, hipped-roof, frame house; the original configuration was wing-and-gable – the front porch has been infilled with wood siding and a non-historic picture window; other fenestration is single and paired 1:1 wood-frame, wood-sash windows.

RESEARCH

The house appears on the 1900 Sanborn map with its original configuration; city directory research prior to 1903-04 is inconclusive. The first known occupants of the house were David W. and May Schmitt, who lived here from around 1904 to around 1915, when they moved to a larger, and new house next door, at 90 East Avenue. From around 1917 until around 1938, the house was occupied by Annie Carlstrom and her family. In the 1922 and 1924 city directories, Annie is listed as the wife of Aaron Carlstrom, who does not appear in earlier city directories. Aaron Carlstrom was a carpenter, and died in the mid-1920s. The house was vacant from the late 1930s through the early 1940s, then owned and occupied by Ben and Juanita Gomez, who lived here until the mid-1960s. Ben Gomez worked for Kelly Smith Cleaners for many years; Juanita Gomez operated a beauty salon at the house. In the late 1970s and early 1980s, the house became rather notorious as a massage parlor.

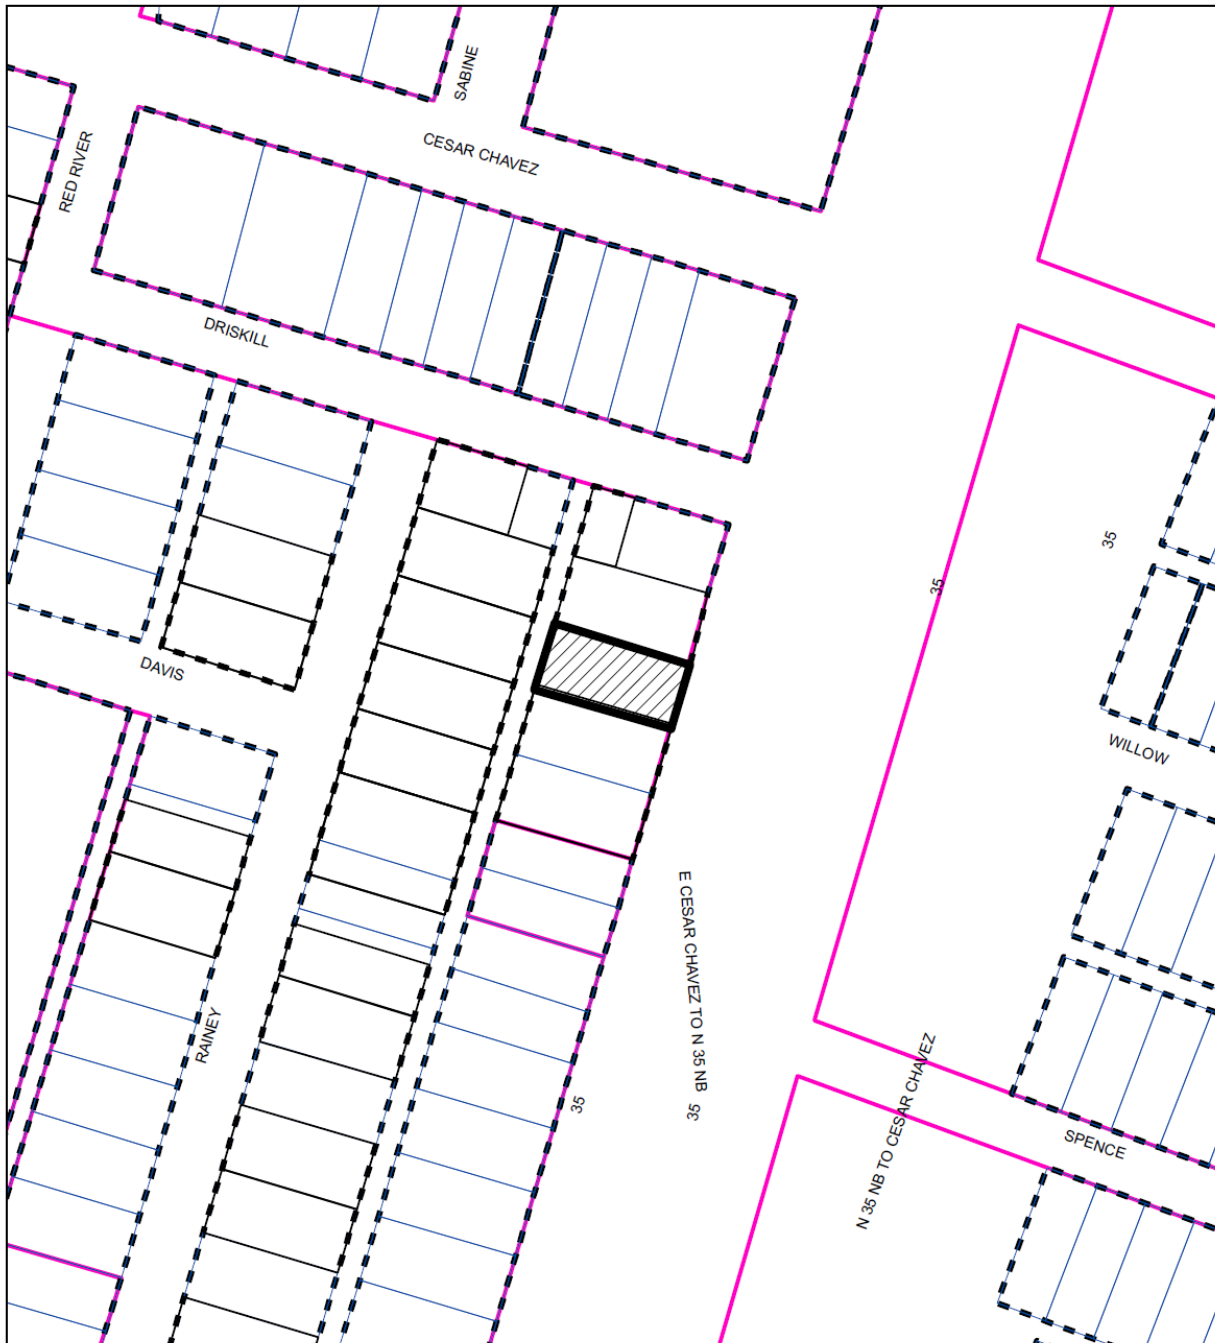

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is listed in the Comprehensive Cultural Resources Survey (1984) but without a priority for research.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage relocation over demolition, but release the permit. The house has been modified to such an extent that staff does not deem documentation necessary.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES:David W. and May Schmitt (ca. 1904 – ca. 1915)

David and May Schmitt appear at this address in the 1910 U.S. Census. They had a son, Hiram, 6, and a son, David, 4. David Schmitt is listed as a saloon keeper.

The 1920 U.S. Census shows Dave and Maud Schmitt at 90 East Avenue, where they moved around 1915; with them lived two sons: Harold, 15; and David, 13, as well as a cousin, Selma Goodman. They owned the house. Dave Schmitt was then 47, had been born in Texas, and was the proprietor of a soft drink shop. Maud Schmitt was 38 and had also been born in Texas. The cousin, Selma Goodman, was 26 and was an office stenographer. See 90 East Avenue for further history on the Schmitt family.

DAVID WILSON SCHMITT

David Wilson Schmitt, 86, 1004 Riverside Drive, died in a local hospital Thursday afternoon. He had been a long-time resident of Austin and was a retired merchant. His former place of residence was in Hays County, Texas.

Survivors besides his wife are two sons, Harold W. Schmitt and David S. Schmitt, Austin; one granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Ellen Bouchard and one great grandchild, Terri Lyn Bouchard, Austin.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 4 p. m. at the Weed-Coffey Funeral Home. Dr. Marvin Vance will officiate with burial in Austin Memorial Park.

Those friends desiring to do so may make a memorial contribution in the name of the Harold Schmitt Jr. memorial scholarship fund of the First Methodist Church.

Annie Carlstrom (ca. 1917 – ca. 1938)

The 1920 U.S. Census shows Aaron and Annie Carlstrom at this address with their son Gus. Both Aaron and Annie were 50; Gus was 29. Both Aaron and Annie had been born in Sweden. Gus had been born in Texas. Gus is listed as a bridge carpenter for the railroad. No one else had an occupation listed. They rented the house.

The 1910 U.S. Census shows Aaron and Annie Carlstrom living at an indecipherable address in Austin. Aaron was a carpenter for a railroad bridge company. Their children were Gus, 18; Hjalmar (Happy), 15; Arvid, 12; and Robert, 9. All had been born in Texas. Gus was a typewriter for an oil mill. Hjalmar was a laborer at a retail store.
