PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1945 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, U-plan, hipped-roof, frame house, with projecting front-gabled bays at each side of the façade; recessed partial-width porch between the projecting front-gabled bays; Colonial Revival-styled wood-frame windows in various configurations, including 8:8 in the front-gabled bays with wood shutters; vertical board ornamentation in the tympanum of the front gables.

RESEARCH

The house was built around 1945; the first residents were Vernon and Elvie Mauge, who lived here from around 1946 to around 1952, renting the house and then buying it around 1947. Vernon Mauge was from Chicago, and had worked in the meat packing industry there; in Austin, he was a salesman for Capitol City Lumber Company. The next owners and occupants were James W. and Shirley Brown, who lived here from the mid-1950s until around 1970. James W. Brown was an air-conditioning installer and business owner.

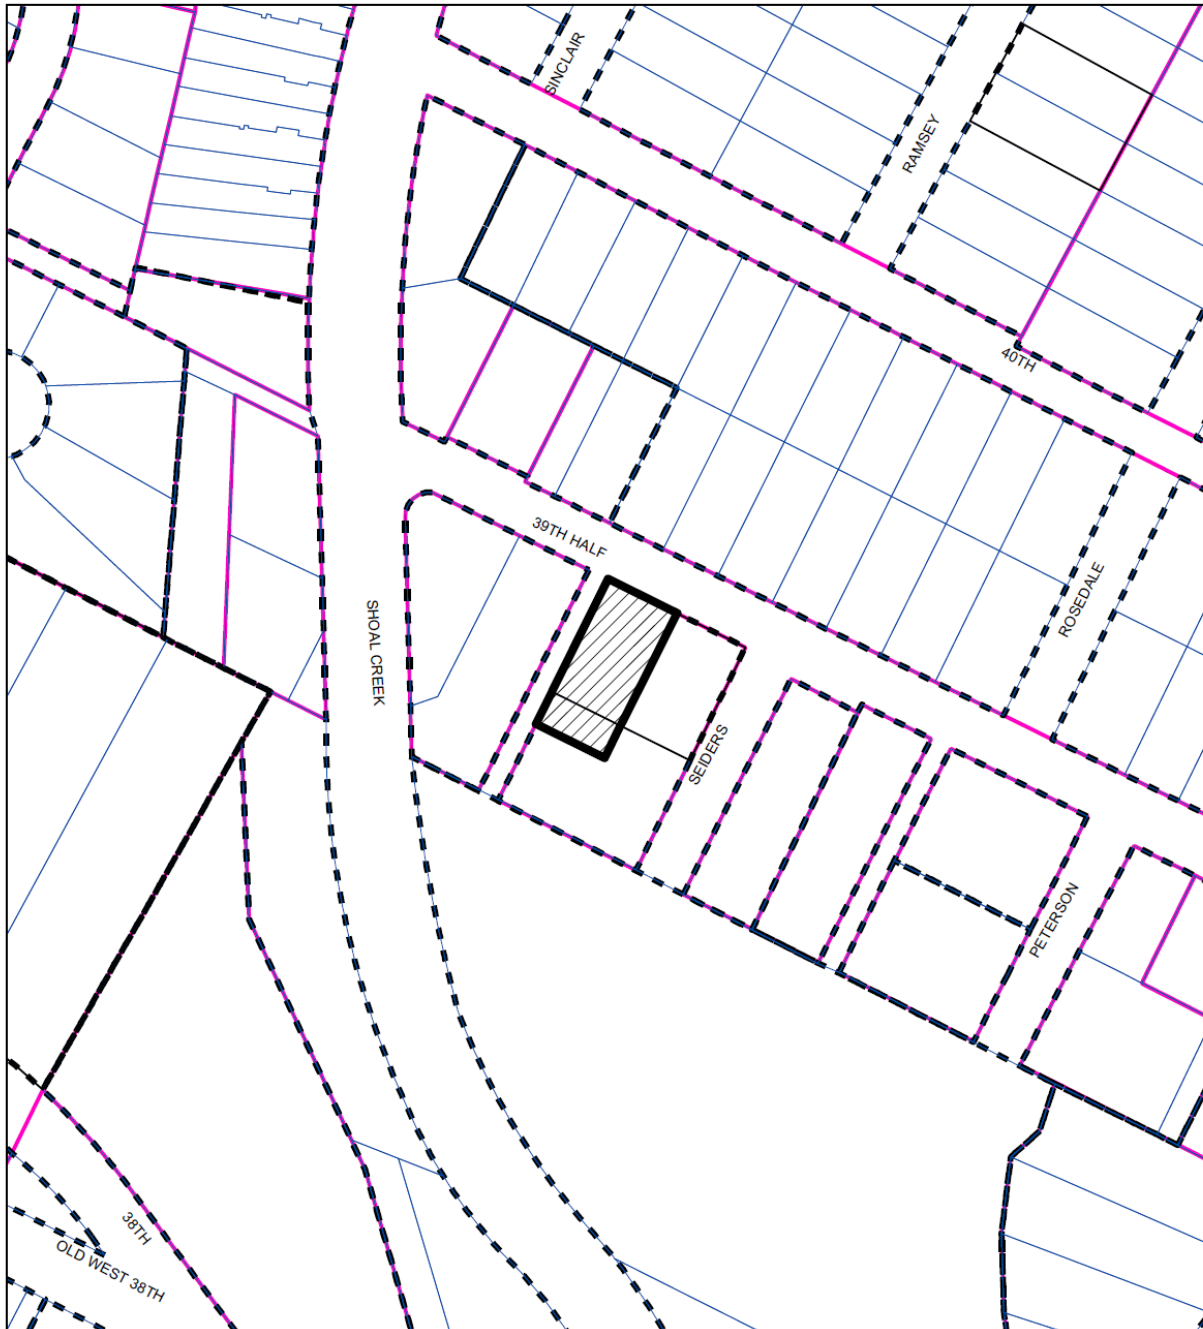

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is beyond the bounds of any City survey.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage relocation over demolition, but release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history of the property, for archiving at the Austin History Center.
