Additional Backup Information

The proposed ordinance amends Chapters 25-7, 25-8, 30-4, and 30-5 relating to drainage and water quality; amending various sections of Titles 25 and 30 relating to environmental protection, and establishing a water supply mitigation fund and riparian zone fund. Ordinance highlights include: extending headwaters stream buffers citywide; requiring Erosion Hazard Zone protections; guiding floodplain modifications to ensure restoration and offer mitigation; improving water quality control requirements; and updating and improving Planned Unit Development environmental options.

In 1986, the City of Austin passed the Comprehensive Watershed Ordinance. Since this time, much has been learned about best approaches to the protection of waterways, riparian areas, and floodplains. Central lessons have been the need to prevent problems before they are created: that development activity not increase impacts to public and private property from flooding and stream erosion or create additional public expense and environmental degradation.

The many provisions of the proposed Watershed Protection Ordinance (WPO) are intended to balance environmental protection with development opportunity. Please see the WPO website for more information at: <http://www.austintexas.gov/page/watershed-protection-ordinance-0>
