Additional Backup Information

The Historic Preservation Office has received affidavits from owners of properties that are zoned by the City as historic landmarks indicating their property's status as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, a State Archaeological Landmark, or its designation as a historically or archaeologically significant site in need of tax relief to encourage its preservation. Staff has reviewed those affidavits and inspected the properties to determine if they are being maintained per City Code requirements.

On April 27, 2015, the Historic Preservation Office presented to the Historic Landmark Commission (HLC) a list of historic landmark properties whose owners they recommended be approved to receive the partial ad valorem tax exemption. The list of historic landmark properties whose owners are being recommended by HLC to receive the partial ad valorem tax exemption is attached as Exhibit A. Only those properties that passed inspection are being recommended to receive partial ad valorem tax exemption. Following action by Council, a final list of historic landmark properties approved by Council to receive the partial ad valorem tax exemption will be forwarded to the Austin Independent School District.
