Additional Backup Information

The Capital Area Council of Governments operates the master agreement for the Regional Notification System (RNS) for a 10-county region. The City of Austin utilizes the RNS for the purpose of warning or alerting citizens and providing information in an emergency situation where property or human life is in jeopardy. It is a computer-based system that uses phone numbers and addresses maintained by the 9-1-1 system, as well as a cell phone registration system, to warn people in a given area of any imminent emergencies. This interlocal agreement supersedes the previous ILA. No funding is required from the City of Austin.
