5. NEW BUSINESS

c. AISD Bilingual Education

Commissioner Nu Chanpheng introduced Olivia Hernandez, Director of Bilingual/ELL at Austin Independent School District (AISD), who presented AISD’s bilingual education program, including Dual Language (DL) One-Way and Two-Way, English Language Learners (ELL), Emergent Bilinguals, and Limited English Proficient (LEP), and Language Other Than English (LOTE); study data on student achievement and benefits of bilingual education. Commissioners asked about the basis of the Thomas study quoted in the presentation, and years to reach level of achievement. Chair Richard Jung stated the current controversy was on what program to use and that some Hispanic parents viewed the bilingual program as inhibiting their children’s progress.

Commissioners were interested in how LOTE and DL were conducted, and the budgetary difference between the two for a Vietnamese program. Ms. Hernandez replied the DL program would require 1) teacher to teach the course content in Vietnamese, 2) teacher to teach advanced Vietnamese, and 3) an additional teach to launch the program, plus resources for Vietnamese text books. Commissioner Kirk Yoshida asked if AISD would expand DL program to Spanish and Vietnamese, and also include Arabic as a third language. Ms. Hernandez replied Spanish was expanding to middle school and LOTE for Vietnamese. Commissioner Shubhada Saxena asked if teachers could be shared across middle schools or be connected with other institutions. Ms. Hernandez replied tutors were needed. Chair Jung thanked Ms. Hernandez and asked her to send a list of tutor requests and copy of the presentation.

Mr. Thuan Tran, a third grade teacher at Summit Elementary School, presented the Vietnamese DL Two-way program at Summit. Chair Jung asked for an electronic copy of the presentation. Commissioners Kotecha and Banks commended Mr. Tran's passion for the program, and that AISD was providing DL program on a language other than Spanish. Commissioners asked about bilingual programs in other schools and the benefits of learning core courses in a non-English language. Commissioner Banks questioned the issue at hand. Chair Jung explained that during an AISD meeting on DL program, native English speakers opposed to DL teamed up with Spanish speaking parents and asserted that DL was inhibiting their children, not understanding that cognitively having the capacity in two languages was better for children's learning. Commissioner Chanpheng suggested viewing the public comments for the AISD Board Meeting on 12/26/2015 for further insight. Commissioners discussed drafting a letter of support for Vietnamese LOTE in middle and high schools.

Recommendation for the Asian American Quality of Life Advisory Commission to provide a letter of support to AISD in favor of a Vietnamese LOTE with Pre-AP at Murchison Middle School was approved on Commissioner Nu Chanpheng motion, Commissioner Kirk Yoshida second on a 9-0 vote (Commissioner Nguyen not present).

Commissioner Saxena suggested that AISD explore additional language programs such as Arabic, and Commissioner Kotecha proposed educating the community on community advocates in schools. Chair Jung suggested discussing with the various Asian communities, asking Ms. Hernandez facilitating the programs. Ms. Hernandez replied that community input is important but that lots of factors needed to be considered, since it takes time to build the program and needs enough students to sustain the Pre-K to 5th grade program. Commissioner Yuen asked if there was data to target the schools. Chair Jung asked that the information be sent to Sarah Chen.

Community Assessment Working Group – Commissioner Richard Yuen reported project preliminary numbers. Of the sample, 90% was foreign born, 83% non-English speakers, 74% limited English proficiency, and Filipino sample increased from 6% to 10%.
