Campaign Sign Recycling

Make sure your signs can be recycled:

If you would like to recycle your signs, be sure to share the following information when you place your order for signs with your sign shop.

- All sizes and colors of polypropylene Coroplast™ signs will be accepted for recycling
- Signs must NOT have any vinyl lettering or vinyl overlays.

When distributing your signs and after the election:

Campaign signs cannot be recycled through the City's curbside recycling program. But, the City has partnered with Texas Disposal Systems and Balcones Resources to recycle campaign signs. When distributing signs to supporters tell them how to recycle their signs:

- Remove and separate stakes or hardware into a separate box
    - Metal sign stakes can be recycled at all three of our partner facilities
    - Wood sign stakes can be composted at select facilities
- Take your signs and separated wood and/or metal stakes to one of the recycling facilities below.
