WHEREAS building out world-class bicycle, transit and pedestrian infrastructure will help Austin compete for the USDOT Smart Cities Challenge;

WHEREAS City Council has initiated the Mobility Talks public input process to garner ideas from this and other Boards and Commissions for easing congestion and improving mobility, including through a 2016 mobility bond;

WHEREAS investment in meaningful alternatives to single-occupancy car trips, including bicycling, pedestrianism and public transit, is the only proven way to reduce congestion;

WHEREAS constructing sidewalks to schools and transit stops will help Austin achieve its Vision Zero street safety goals to eliminate traffic-related deaths and address historic inequities;

WHEREAS funding a high-capacity transit network that prioritizes high-density corridors and high-diversity populations will make public transportation a viable, convenient and affordable transportation choice for Austinites;

WHEREAS the PAC wishes to ensure that the City of Austin has a fully connected, safe, and accessible pedestrian network;

WHEREAS the PAC supports the creation of a flexible funding source for other necessary pedestrian capital infrastructure;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, Pedestrian Advisory Council recommends the City Council pursue a 2016 mobility bond that achieves the following:

3. Fully fund the Bicycle Master Plan, including "Tier 1" Urban Trails;
