REVOCATION OF PERMIT

As stated in Section 9-2-65 (Revocation of Live Music Permit), the Music Office may recommend that a permit be revoked for repeatedly exceeding the allowable decibel limits, hours of permitted sound amplification, or for other violations of conditions set forth in the Sound Impact Plan. The permit expires at midnight on the first anniversary of the date it was issued. It is the applicant's responsibility to apply for permit renewal prior to expiration. The accountable official may refuse to issue or renew an outdoor music venue permit if the permittee has been convicted of more than two permit violations under Chapter 9-2, or if the property where the sound equipment will be used has received more than two permit violations.

SOUND COMPLIANCE HISTORY

In the past year has any employee, agent or representative of the venue where sound equipment will be located received a citation(s) related to sound permit violations? Please list, if any, how many warnings and citations the venue has received and briefly explain the cause of each (no sound permit, playing past cut-off times, exceeding the decibel limits).
