

Objection to Hotel's Building Waiver

Dear Dawson neighborhood owners/residents,

Hotel developers plan to construct a hotel with associated improvements at 2510 S. Congress Avenue, Austin, TX 78704. They are requesting from the City of Austin a waiver to the city code in order to place the hotel building closer to adjoining neighborhood property than the 24 foot setback required by city code compatibility standards. The hotel's waiver is as follows:

Building: City code compatibility standards state that a building may not be closer than 24 feet from an adjoining property. The developers are requesting this code be waived so they can construct a building 5 feet from adjoining neighborhood property.

We ask you to help us by signing this form stating that you object to the City of Austin granting this waiver to build the hotel 5 feet from its neighbors.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

The Church in Austin
2530 S. Congress Ave.
Austin, TX 78704

I object to the City of Austin waiving the abovementioned required building setback of 24 feet.

PUBLIC HEARING INFORMATION

Although applicants and/or their agent(s) are expected to attend a public hearing, you are not required to attend. However, if you do attend, you have the opportunity to speak FOR or AGAINST the proposed development or change. You may also contact a neighborhood or environmental organization that has expressed an interest in an application affecting your neighborhood.

During a public hearing, the board or commission may postpone or continue an application's hearing to a later date, or recommend approval or denial of the application. If the board or commission announces a specific date and time for a postponement or continuation that is not later than 60 days from the announcement, no further notice is required.

A board or commission's decision may be appealed by a person with standing to appeal, or an interested party that is identified as a person who can appeal the decision. The body holding a public hearing on an appeal will determine whether a person has standing to appeal the decision.

A zoning ordinance amendment may include a conditional overlay which would include conditions approved by the Land Use Commission or the City Council. If final approval is by a City Council's action, there is no appeal of the Land Use Commission's action.

An interested party is defined as a person who is the applicant or record owner of the subject property, or who communicates an interest to a board or commission by:

- delivering a written statement to the board or commission before or during the public hearing that generally identifies the issues of concern (it may be delivered to the contact listed on a notice); or
- appearing and speaking for the record at the public hearing;

and:

- occupies a primary residence that is within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development;
- is the record owner of property within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development; or
- is an officer of an environmental or neighborhood organization that has an interest in or whose declared boundaries are within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development.

A notice of appeal must be filed with the director of the responsible department no later than 14 days after the decision. An appeal form may be available from the responsible department.

For additional information on the City of Austin's land development process, visit our web site: www.austintexas.gov/devservices.

Written comments must be submitted to the board or commission (or the contact person listed on the notice) before or at a public hearing. Your comments should include the name of the board or commission, or Council; the scheduled date of the public hearing; the Case Number; and the contact person listed on the notice.

Comments: I have lived on the church property for about ten years.

This is my home and place of rest from my busy schedule. I am a 48 years old single woman with low income because I depend on the church offerings. The further away the hotel activities are from the church property the less disturbance it will cause me. If the hotel is built so close to us

I will be very uncomfortable having their windows facing the place where

I live, especially being a single woman privacy and security are a big concern to me. If they build a four story building so close to us our property will be very enclosed making the place where I live a noisy and busy place to live in.

Comments: As a missionary, what I call my "quiet time" spent in prayer and reflection before God is crucial. In it I prepare both to speak and counsel people I meet with. Having the flow of traffic and noise ~~near~~ ~~to~~ ~~the~~ ~~property~~ the hotel would bring nearer to our property than code allows would disrupt my preparation. As a low income resident, I have nowhere else to go - this is both my home and office. Having the least amount of disruption and our privacy protected is necessary.

PUBLIC HEARING INFORMATION

Although applicants and/or their agent(s) are expected to attend a public hearing, you are not required to attend. However, if you do attend, you have the opportunity to speak FOR or AGAINST the proposed development or change. You may also contact a neighborhood or environmental organization that has expressed an interest in an application affecting your neighborhood.

During a public hearing, the board or commission may postpone or continue an application's hearing to a later date, or recommend approval or denial of the application. If the board or commission announces a specific date and time for a postponement or continuation that is not later than 60 days from the announcement, no further notice is required.

A board or commission's decision may be appealed by a person with standing to appeal, or an interested party that is identified as a person who can appeal the decision. The body holding a public hearing on an appeal will determine whether a person has standing to appeal the decision.

A zoning ordinance amendment may include a conditional overlay which would include conditions approved by the Land Use Commission or the City Council. If final approval is by a City Council's action, there is no appeal of the Land Use Commission's action.

An interested party is defined as a person who is the applicant or record owner of the subject property, or who communicates an interest to a board or commission by:

- delivering a written statement to the board or commission before or during the public hearing that generally identifies the issues of concern (it may be delivered to the contact listed on a notice); or
- appearing and speaking for the record at the public hearing; and:
- occupies a primary residence that is within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development;
- is the record owner of property within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development; or
- is an officer of an environmental or neighborhood organization that has an interest in or whose declared boundaries are within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development.

A notice of appeal must be filed with the director of the responsible department no later than 14 days after the decision. An appeal form may be available from the responsible department.

Comments: Preserving the serene atmosphere at the church property is a must for its proper use. Granting the requested variances infringes on the use & suitability of our property. The 50' set back for the pool should be maintained to keep the noise of social life at night at bay. Putting the driveway
5' from our property will certainly cause nightly disturbances. Putting the building
5' from our property will cause privacy issues to our property & increase the noise problem from the balconies.

Comments: I object the proposed development because this change would disturb the present quiet and comfortable atmosphere around my home. This is personally very important to me and my health. Furthermore a 4-story building next to my home would potentially invade my privacy by having guests look on my property at 2530 S. Congress.

PUBLIC HEARING INFORMATION

Although applicants and/or their agent(s) are expected to attend a public hearing, you are not required to attend. However, if you do attend, you have the opportunity to speak FOR or AGAINST the proposed development or change. You may also contact a neighborhood or environmental organization that has expressed an interest in an application affecting your neighborhood.

During a public hearing, the board or commission may postpone or continue an application's hearing to a later date, or recommend approval or denial of the application. If the board or commission announces a specific date and time for a postponement or continuation that is not later than 60 days from the announcement, no further notice is required.

A board or commission's decision may be appealed by a person with standing to appeal, or an interested party that is identified as a person who can appeal the decision. The body holding a public hearing on an appeal will determine whether a person has standing to appeal the decision.

A zoning ordinance amendment may include a conditional overlay which would include conditions approved by the Land Use Commission or the City Council. If final approval is by a City Council's action, there is no appeal of the Land Use Commission's action.

An interested party is defined as a person who is the applicant or record owner of the subject property, or who communicates an interest to a board or commission by:

- delivering a written statement to the board or commission before or during the public hearing that generally identifies the issues of concern (it may be delivered to the contact listed on a notice); or
- appearing and speaking for the record at the public hearing; and:

- occupies a primary residence that is within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development;
- is the record owner of property within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development; or
- is an officer of an environmental or neighborhood organization that has an interest in or whose declared boundaries are within 500 feet of the subject property or proposed development.

A notice of appeal must be filed with the director of the responsible department no later than 14 days after the decision. An appeal form may be available from the responsible department.

For additional information on the City of Austin's land development process, visit our web site: www.austintexas.gov/devservices.

Written comments must be submitted to the board or commission (or the contact person listed on the notice) before or at a public hearing. Your comments should include the name of the board or commission, or Council; the scheduled date of the public hearing; the Case Number; and the contact person listed on the notice.
