

HISTORIC LANDMARK COMMISSION
NOVEMBER 21, 2016
DEMOLITION AND RELOCATION PERMITS
HDP-2016-0747
3412 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1925 house that was moved to its current site in 1961.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, front-gabled frame bungalow with a partial-width, front-gabled projecting bay with a partially-inset porch on square wood posts; plate glass picture window in front; single and paired 1:1 fenestration elsewhere.

RESEARCH

This house was originally built at 1505 S. Congress Avenue in 1925, and moved to the current site by Fred Van Zandt in 1961. Fred Van Zandt, a laborer and yard worker, lived here from the early 1960s until around 1983. When the house was on South Congress Avenue, it was primarily a rental property, with tenants including a bricklayer, a highway engineer, an accountant, and the proprietor of a beauty shop, who had her shop in the house.

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is beyond the bounds of any City survey to date.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use, then relocation over demolition, but release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history, for archiving at the Austin History Center. The house has neither the architectural nor the historical significance to warrant individual designation as a historic landmark, but should be re-purposed as affordable housing if possible.
