This contract is exempt from the City Code Chapter 2-9C Minority Owned and Women Owned Business Enterprise Procurement Program; therefore, no subcontracting goals were established.

Additional Backup Information

The contract will provide services to conduct forensic serological and deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) analysis of biological evidence for the Austin Police Department (APD). APD anticipates Bode Cellmark to test approximately 1,300 cases during the contract.

Bode Cellmark has an established relationship with the Department of Public Safety (DPS) and has successfully worked over 400 sexual assault kits on behalf of APD through DPS. No other private lab that APD has contacted has been able to identify available resources to meet the volume of casework and Combined DNA Index System (CODIS) demands that APD requires. Bode Cellmark has been granted full Texas Forensic Science Commission accreditation and is capable of accepting and processing the volume of casework APD is prepared to send.

A delay in approving or failure to approve this contract will result in an increased number of untested DNA samples adding to the existing backlog of DNA cases. Performing these services is essential in assisting law enforcement in identifying unknown suspects, linking DNA profiles between crime scenes, and eliminating suspects in sexual assault cases.
