PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1951 house.

ARCHITECTURE

---

One-story, L-plan, frame ranch house with board-and-batten siding above a stone foundation half-wall, metal-framed multi-lite and metal-framed casement windows on the elevations visible from the street. On the back of the house, the structure exhibits some of the hallmarks of mid-century modern architecture, with glass walls overlooking the back yard and pool, and a two-story glass-enclosed stairway. The mid-century modern sections on the back of the house could have been added in 1964. City records indicate a frame addition in 1964. Given the fairly standard appearance of the part of the house facing the street, that reflects a 1951 construction date, it is very likely that the mid-century modern section was a later addition.

RESEARCH

The house was built during the winter of 1950-1951 by Robert Bowman, a real estate agent-turned insurance man. Robert Bowman was with a real estate office at the time he and his wife built this house; beginning around 1953, he changed his focus to insurance, first working as an agent for Robert C. Heidrick and Robert L. Hatchett, Jr., then forming a partnership with Robert C. Heidrick and Thomas C. Wommack in the late 1950s. He became a partner in the Consolidated Insurance Company around 1960, and vice-president of the agency in the 1990s. He lived here until his death in 1993; his widow, Mary Ann, continued to live here until her death in 2016.

According to the real estate advertisement for this property, and confirmed by the legal description, this house was designed by the Bowmans on their own subdivision. There is no indication of an architect associated with the design of the house; the building permit references B.L. McGee as the builder. Boyd L. McGee is listed in the 1952 city directory as a general contractor with his office close to his house on E. 51st Street. By the end of the 1950s, B.L. McGee had a construction company on Research Boulevard that specialized in the construction of office, commercial, and industrial buildings. McGee built a number of buildings around the University of Texas and the State of Texas complex, according to Trey Wattinger, whose family purchased B.L. McGee Construction Company in 1978. McGee's most noteworthy commissions were likely the dormitory at the Episcopal Seminary of the Southwest (1954), the terminal building at the old Robert Mueller Airport (1959) and the undergraduate library at the University of Texas (1960). B.L. McGee died in San Antonio in 1980.

REAL ESTATE AGENT'S DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPERTY:

First time offered and now presented as lot value for this uniquely magical and private setting on a .55 Acre flat, cul de sac lot located in the sweet spot of Tarrytown. Loved and enjoyed by just one family--The Bowmans-- since developing the area and building their own personal home on the site in 1950. Because the existing improvements are obsolete, this exquisite lot is ready for a new home and a new family that will hopefully enjoy it almost as long as the Bowman family--almost 70 years!

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is beyond the bounds of any City survey to date.

The house does not meet the criteria for landmark designation as set forth in City Code:

- a. Architecture. The house displays mid-century modern aesthetics on the back of the house, but appears as a fairly typical West Austin ranch house from the street. From any public viewpoint, the house does not appear to have any architectural distinction.
- b. Historical association. The builders and owners of this house were Robert and Mary Ann Bowman, who lived here until their deaths. Robert Bowman was a partner in an insurance agency. There do not appear to be significant historical associations.
- c. Archaeology. The house was not evaluated for its potential to yield significant data concerning the human history or prehistory of the region.
- d. Community value. The house does not possess a unique location, physical characteristic, or significant feature that contributes to the character, image, or cultural identity of the city, the neighborhood, or a particular demographic group.
- e. Landscape feature. The property is not a significant natural or designed landscape with artistic, aesthetic, cultural, or historical value to the city.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use, then relocation over demolition, but release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history, for archiving at the Austin History Center.

Obituary of Robert H. Bowman
Austin American-Statesman, March 17, 1993

Mary Ann Lewis Bowman, affectionately known as Weedie, passed away peacefully at her home in Austin on December 26, 2016 in the presence of her loving family. Her quick wit and playful sense of humor were a delight to her family and many friends of all ages. Anchored in faith, her life was a celebration of joy, a tribute to love and an inspiration to everyone who knew her.

Mary Ann was born on March 25, 1925 in Taylor, Texas to Ray Powers Lewis and Eleanor Henderson Lewis. Her childhood was spent there and at Camp Verde in the Hill Country. She was a twirler for the Taylor High School Ducks, attended Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Virginia and graduated from the University of Texas at Austin, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. There she met and fell in love with Bob Bowman, and they married in November, 1946.

Mary Ann always had a surprise up her sleeve and there was never a dull moment in the Bowman household. With sparkling eyes, she was always curious, always kind, and never without a rhyme or poem. She entertained with great style and flair, and her days overflowed with the laughter of friends and family. Her home was full of treasures from her travels, seashells from her favorite beaches, shelves of well-loved books and always a favorite cat. Her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews were the light of her life, and she loved spending time with all of them.

Full of life's magic, she shared her bright spirit generously. She and her husband were founding members of Good Shepherd Church, champions of Hospice Austin and devoted supporters of St. Andrew's Episcopal School and St. Mary's Hall. She was a loyal member of her Book Club and Open Forum, and she shared her creativity and artistic talents with family, friends and many organizations from the Junior League to Laguna Gloria.

Mary Ann loved being happy, and she showed us all the beauty of a life fully lived.

Mary Ann is predeceased by her beloved husband of 47 years, Robert H. Bowman (pictured above), and by her parents. She is survived by her two sons and her daughter and their spouses, R.H. Tibaut Bowman and Shelly, of San Antonio, Molly Bowman Stephens and Bart, of Austin, and Powers Lewis Bowman and Penny, of Austin; eight grandchildren and their spouses, Tibaut Bowman, Jr. and Heather, Forrest Bowman and Meriel, Wendy Bowman, Andrew Stephens and Erin, Shelby Stephens and Rachel, Marianna Stephens Elskes and Jimmy, Joseph Bowman, and Katy Bowman; and five great grandchildren, Lola Bowman, Townsend Bowman, Wynne Stephens, Mary Caroline Stephens, and Chambers Stephens.

The family expresses profound gratitude to those who made Mary Ann's life more comfortable and joyful through their extraordinary care and loving companionship, especially Marcella Davenport and Rafaella Urline.

A memorial service will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, December 29, 2016 at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd at 3201 Windsor Rd. in Austin, following a private family interment. Memorial contributions may be made to St. Andrew's Episcopal School, 1112 West 31st Street, Austin, Texas 78705, the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, 3201 Windsor Road, Austin, Texas 78703, or the Austin Humane Society, 124 West Anderson Lane, Austin, Texas 78752.
