

Yes, I am willing to recommend postponement of your case this time until December 16 given your circumstances, but I cannot recommend an additional postponement beyond that.

Steve,

Would it be possible to wait until the next Certificate of Appropriateness meeting or the December Commission meeting? With the rain this past week the painters were delayed which in turn delayed Artisan from being able to refinish the flooring until this next week. The painters are finishing today and tomorrow to ensure Artisan can finish the floors so I can move the furniture in the house.

I greatly appreciate all of your help and understanding. The renovation has taken much longer than ever anticipated. Please do not hesitate to give me a call if you have any questions.
