Hey Amber,

I recently received a notice about the potential demolition of 1010 Springdale and wanted to leave a comment about it. I am in favor of its demolition. My name is Anthony Lusardi and I live at 4807 Alf Ave.

My comment is:

"The lot in question is presently empty except for the vacant building 1010 Springdale. The lot is often used to store trucks and largely serves as an unproductive eye sore.

I cannot find any actual historical significance of this building. The filing itself says only that it was owned and lived in by people long past. This is not a justification for historical significance.

In short there is no discernible historical significance to this building. I as a homeowner living close by welcome the opportunity to see this empty lot and empty building turned into a productive multi-story multi-family building. Austin needs more housing and these are the types of works my wife and I want in our neighborhood."
