The following communication of H. L. Haynes was read:

"Austin, Texas, December 3, 1925.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council,

City of Austin, Texas.

Gentlemen:

I respectfully submit for your consideration an ordinance fixing the tax rate of the city, for all purposes, for 1925 at $2.20 per $100.00 valuation, a reduction from $2.30 for 1924; the reduction being made in the Interest and Sinking Fund, which is made possible on account of the decrease in our bonded debt by redemption of bonds.

I beg to call attention to the fact that by reason of overdrafts in several departments (beyond the appropriations made in the budget) being less than the previous year, the City is in fine financial condition, probably better than that of any other city in the State, and I congratulate the administration on being able to make the reduction in the tax rate suggested and ask the adoption of the ordinance.

Respectfully submitted,

(sgd) H. L. Haynes,

Commissioner Receipts, Disbursements
