RESOLUTION.

James V. Littlepage, Chief of Police of the City of Austin, lost his life at the hands of an assassin, on October 9th, 1928. He died as he had lived, in the faithful and courageous performance of duty. He brought to the responsible office that he held for the years preceding his untimely passing, the virtues that become those who are incapable of betraying a public trust. By his rugged honesty and the considerate conduct of his office, he had earned, as he merited to do, the respect and admiration of those whom he served. The city government has suffered the loss of an incorruptible and able officer, and the community will mourn him as an upright Christian gentleman.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the City Council offer the above expressions in commemoration of our lamented Chief of Police; and that a copy of these proceedings be forwarded to his family, with whom we deeply sympathize, and to whom we tender our condolence.
WHEREAS, on yesterday, at the hands of an assassin, the useful life of our beloved Chief, J. N. Littlepage, who was always on duty, was snuffed out;

Therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED By the Department of Justice of the Administration of the City of Austin:

That in the death of Chief Littlepage this department has sustained an irreparable loss; each of us a true friend; the community a manly man and useful citizen; his family a tender, devoted, loving father and husband, in whose death the entire community mourns; and

RESOLVED FURTHER:

That we tender to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in this, their sad hour of bereavement; and

RESOLVED FURTHER:

That a copy of these resolutions be given to the press of the city and a copy be sent to his beloved and bereaved wife and children.
