The following statement from Councilman Haynes was laid before the Council:

"Austin, Texas, December 4, 1919.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council,
City of Austin, Texas.

Gentlemen:

*Long I
To the Board*

I have the honor to submit herewith an ordinance fixing and levying municipal taxes on each One Hundred Dollars of property valuations within the limits of the City of Austin for the year 1919, as follows, to-wit:

For the General Fund, as fixed by the charter, for all current expenses and improvement of the City (30% of which to be apportioned for streets and bridges).....	$1.00
For Interest and Sinking Fund on the bonded debt (including all School Bonds).....	.75
For the Public Schools.....	.59
Making a total rate of	$2.34

which you will note is an increase of 14 cents on the One Hundred Dollars over 1918, same being additional amount levied for the Schools by request of the Board.

I am pleased to state that on account of the increase of $1,000,000.00 in valuations for 1919 over that of 1918, the rate for the General Fund and the Interest and Sinking Fund can safely be placed the same as last year, notwithstanding the higher cost of all materials and labor, besides, as stated above, the rate for the General Fund is fixed, and the rate of 75 cents for Interest and Sinking Fund is a positive amount required to meet the obligations of the City due in 1920.

Therefore, I respectfully request that the ordinance be adopted.

Respectfully,

H. L. Haynes,

Superintendent Receipts, Disbursements and Accounts".
