EXPLORE TEMPO DURING E.A.S.T.

Las Piñatas

David Goujon

Edward Rendon Sr. Park, 2101 Jesse E. Segovia St.

A herd of piñata burros grazes in an east Austin field, evoking the area's rich cultural history. SELECT EVENT L

Migration

Ethan Azarian

Rosewood-Zaragosa Neighborhood Center, 2800 Webberville Rd.

Large murals interpret the developing story of the changing neighborhoods in east Austin, starting in the early 1830s when the area was mostly farmland through to the present-day influx of new buildings. EAST EXHIBITION 347

Omission

Juan Deleon

Boggy Creek Greenbelt Park, 2320 Rosewood Ave.

Open space is given definition by 10' tall white spheres arranged in changing configurations. (Nov. 14-15) EAST EXHIBITION 445

The Public Sentiment Project

Jennifer Chenoweth & Dorothy Johnson

Boggy Creek Greenbelt Park, 1114 Nile St.

A campaign of whimsical signage and collected personal narratives engages park visitors and investigates the meaning of everyday experience. Images shared on social media @xyzatlas.

KNOT

George Sabra

Boggy Creek Greenbelt Park, 1114 Nile St.

This freestanding sculpture made from reclaimed oil drums draws attention to the burning of fossil fuels and their effect on climate change.

SkyLines

Melissa Borrell & Hanna Lupico

Boggy Creek Greenbelt Park, 1114 Nile St.

Fiber optic light cables mounted in two overlapping arrays beneath the Pleasant Valley Rd. underpass juxtapose the natural setting of the Boggy Creek Greenbelt.
