An average of 64 people have died every year on Austin roads since 2008. A much higher number are injured.

AUSTIN'S FATALITIES BY MODE OF TRANSPORTATION (2008 - 2014)

214 deaths (49% of total)

Sources
Fatalities by Mode: City of Austin

Top Causes:
San Francisco: Nicole Schneider, Walk San Francisco
New York City: http://transalt.org/sites/default/files/news/reports/2011/Vision_Zero.pdf p. 16

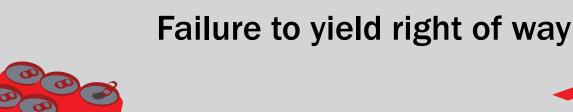

TOP CAUSES OF INJURIES & DEATHS (NYC & San Francisco)

Failure to stop

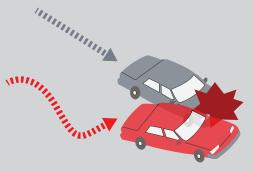

Driver inattention or distraction

Alcohol + drugs

Improper movements, e.g. lane changing, backing, or turning

VISION ZOFO is a holistic approach to achieving zoro deaths & zoro serious injuries while traveling in Austin.

WALKABLE COMMUNITIES = HEALTHY COMMUNITIES

79% of people want to walk more

40% say their communities aren't walkable

"Walkable environments are key to encouraging people to walk more."

- Raymond J. Baxter, PhD, Kaiser Permanente senior vice president for Community Benefit, Research and Health Policy

SOURCE: Kaiser Permanente, http://share.kaiserpermanente.org/article/americans-view-walking-as-good-for-health-but-many-arent-walking-enough-to-realize-health-benefits-survey/

SUCCESS STORIES

Vision Zero policies have been adopted by countries & cities around the world, as well as 38 US states 8 major US cities.

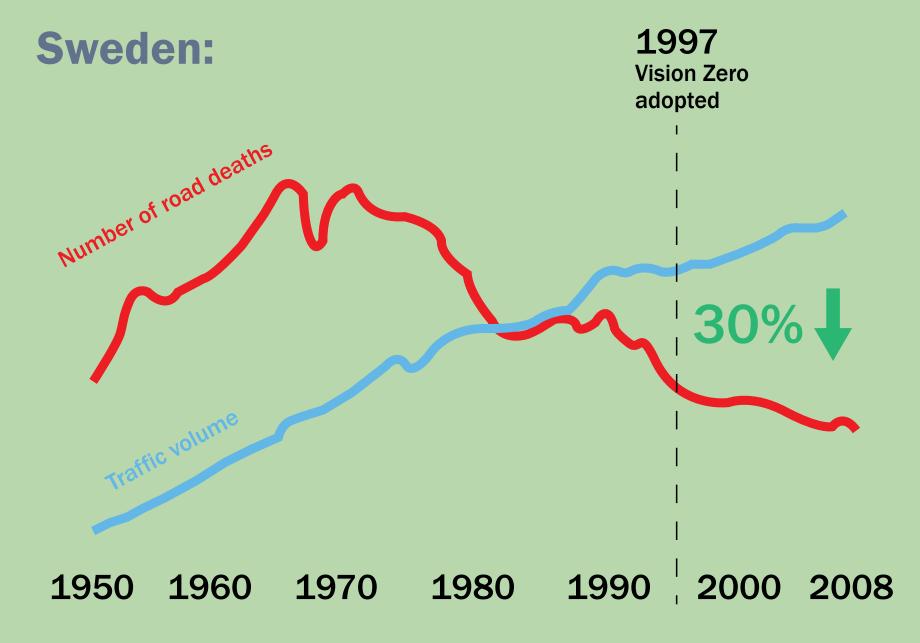

- 1. No traffic death is acceptable.
- 2. People will make mistakes; those mistakes shouldn't be fatal
- Safety is the primary consideration in transportation decision-making
- Traffic safety solutions must be addressed holistically

ROAD TO VISION ZERO

WINTER 2015 - 2016
REVIEW BY COMMUNITY +
CITY COUNCIL ADOPTION

WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT!

NYC: lowest number of traffic fatalities since 1910

Utah: 48% reduction of traffic fatalities since early 2000s

