

ALLIANCE CHILDREN'S GARDEN PUBLIC MEETING #1

About the Project

Austin's natural environment is an integral part of the city's vibrancy and allure, distinguishing it as truly unique for its abundance and diversity of outdoor settings. Many cherished recreational environments exist within this landscape and, situated along the southern shores of Lady Bird Lake near downtown, Butler Park has long been a focal point of recreation.

Park features like the Doug Sahm Hill and Liz Carpenter Fountain are regularly filled with the smiling faces of visitors young and old, and the addition of the Alliance Children's Garden to this beloved parkland will further establish Butler Park as the crown jewel of Austin's public spaces. The Alliance Children's Garden represents the fulfillment of a multiyear master plan and implementation effort to provide Austin citizens with a cultural hub of activity and recreation.

This project will complete Butler Park and provide an imaginative play and recreational environment for visitors of all ages. It will be a place that speaks to the rich cultural and natural setting that makes Austin so unique.
