
Bigtooth Maple

(Acer grandidentatum)

Bigtooth Maple is a native Texas tree, known for its outstanding fall color. After the first autumn cold snap its leaves turn yellow, orange and red, providing a showy display. The seeds, buds, and flowers provide food for many birds and small mammals. Learn more about Central Texas gardening at:
www.GrowGreen.org

#ATXGrowGreen