The City has initiated efforts to redevelop property currently occupied by the Austin Energy Control Center. This Council action will allow the City to enter into a Master Development Agreement with Constructive Ventures, Inc. and TC Austin Development, Inc. to redevelop the property. The main development and general covenants are as follows: - Single-phase purchase of property ($14.5 million) following site environmental remediation; - Design and construction of private improvements within the property, and public improvements within the adjoining rights-of-way and trail easement; - Secure the City's reasonable approval of the site plan, exterior facades and landscape plans (but not interior aspects); - Buildings LEED-Gold Certified; - $1 million infrastructure payment at completion of construction; - $250,000 Art in Public Places match; - $100,000 contribution toward art wall around Seaholm Substation; - $2.7 million affordable housing fund payment; - COA Prevailing Wages for construction; - Achieve or make good faith effort to achieve: o M/WBE participation goals; o 25% retail M/WBE businesses; and o 100% retail local businesses; - Liquidated damages if construction stops for more than 30 days; and - Easement provided to extend Shoal Creek Trail between West Ave. and 5th Street.

The proposed ordinance permits the use of "interlocking stairs" and "area of refuge requirements" consistent with those approved by the City for Spring Condominiums.

On May 13, 2010, Council postponed action on this item to May 27th and directed that staff ensure site development terms are drafted to include language that provides for the flexibility of developing a bicycle/pedestrian accessible plaza at 3rd St between West Avenue and Shoal Creek. The attached documents have been updated to comply with this direction.
