| Additional Backup Information | | | | |

The contract will allow for publication of the City's new Land Development Code. The Land Development Code determines how land can be used throughout the City, and activities to revise the current Land Development Code have been ongoing through the CodeNEXT initiative. The new Land Development Code is scheduled to be adopted by Council in 2017 and must be published shortly after adoption. The City desires consistency and is therefore requesting the Land Development Code to be published through Municipal Code Corporation, who currently publishes the City Code. If the contract is not approved, the new Land Development Code will not be available electronically or in hard copy as required by the City Charter.
