new off-premise signs in the City's zoning and extraterritorial jurisdictions; and 9 WHEREAS, consistent with these overall objectives, several cities with off-10 premise sign regulations similar to Austin's provide limited options for off-premise 11 advertising at sites and facilities where impacts to the public realm can be fairly 12 minimized through reasonable design and locational standards; and schools and transit facilities in public right-of-way; NOW, THEREFORE,
