COUNCIL DISTRICT: 3

APPLICANT: Historic Landmark Commission

HISTORIC NAME: Tuke-Lyon Grocery Store

WATERSHED: Lady Bird Lake

ADDRESS OF PROPOSED ZONING CHANGE: 220 Comal Street

COUNCIL DISTRICT: 3

ZONING FROM: LR-NP to LR-H-NP

SUMMARY STAFF RECOMMENDATION: Staff recommends the proposed zoning change from neighborhood commercial, neighborhood plan (LR-NP) combining district zoning to neighborhood commercial – Historic Landmark – neighborhood plan (LR-H-NP) combining district zoning. Staff further recommends the delineation of an appropriate area for historic zoning for this building rather than the entire parcel – the historic building with a 10- to 25-foot buffer around it would be sufficient to protect and preserve the integrity of the building and allow the property owner to develop the remainder of the lot if they so desire.

The applicant has filed for a partial demolition permit, but the permit contemplates demolition of all four existing walls and the construction of a new building on the same footprint. Staff’s recommendation is for the repair and rehabilitation of the existing structure using historic materials to the greatest extent possible and replacing only those materials which have been damaged or deteriorated beyond repair.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR LANDMARK DESIGNATION:
Architecture, historical associations, and community value.

PLANNING COMMISSION ACTION: No recommendation. The motion for historic zoning failed for lack of a quorum vote. Vote: 6-0-3 (Kazi, Kenny, and Llanes-Pulido abstaining; Azhar, Howard, Schneider, and Seeger absent).

DEPARTMENT COMMENTS: The building is recommended for landmark designation in the East Austin Historic Resources Survey (2016).

CITY COUNCIL DATE: September 19, 2019    ACTION:
CASE MANAGER: Steve Sadowsky

PHONE: 974-6454

NEIGHBORHOOD ORGANIZATION: East Cesar Chavez Neighborhood Association

BASIS FOR RECOMMENDATION:

Architecture:
One-story, rectangular-plan, front-gabled frame commercial building with a full-width independent porch on plain wood posts and a rectangular false front accented with a triangular section at the center.

The building is a simple, wood-frame store building which used to be commonplace in Austin neighborhoods, but is now a rarity. The building retains a remarkable degree of integrity and has architectural distinction for its vernacular style and identification as a neighborhood grocery store.

Historical Associations:
The building appears to have been built around 1922; the December, 1921 Sanborn map shows the site as vacant. The building was constructed as a grocery store by Henry G. and Fannie Tuke, who had previously operated a grocery store at 1121 E. 4th Street, where they resided. Henry Tuke was a Dutch immigrant; Fannie Tuke had been born in St. Louis. They built a dwelling attached to the south side of the store, and operated their business here, called the Cash Grocery Store (1922 – 1932) then the H.G. Tuke Grocery thereafter until they sold the business around 1936.

Albert Eng, of Chinese descent, purchased the store and adjacent house from the Tukes around 1936, and operated the grocery business until around 1946, when he appears to have moved to San Antonio, where he lived the rest of his life.

From around 1946 until around 1963, the store was owned and operated by Clayton A. and Aline Lyon, who also lived in the adjacent dwelling. Clayton Lyon was a former truck driver; he and Aline’s father, Roy McCarty, are listed as the first proprietors of the business; after around 1948, the business became Clayton’s alone, and he changed the name from Lyon and McCarty Grocery to Lyon’s Grocery and market, and finally to Lyon’s Food Market. Lillie Swartz and her husband Jesse, owned and operated the store from the mid-1960s until around 1970. Lillie Swartz also lived on the site, and the Swartzes had two building permits for residential buildings on the site – the first by Jesse Swartz in 1966 to construct a house at 218 Comal, the address of the former residence of previous proprietors. Lillie Swartz then obtained a building permit to move a house onto the site in 1969. Whether these buildings were ever constructed or located on the property is unknown at this time; in any case, they are not on the site now.

The building has a history dating back to the early 1920s, when it was established by a Dutch immigrant and his family as a neighborhood grocery store. Since that time, the building has had other owners, all relatively long-term until the present, including a Chinese-American grocery merchant, who operated the store from the mid-1930s through the mid-1940s.

Community Value:
The building has community value as a good example of a vanishing resource and reflects the history of neighborhood grocery stores in Austin. The store contributes to the historic character and image of the neighborhood and the city.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION
Henry G. and Fannie Tuke (proprietors ca. 1921 – ca. 1936)
The 1930 U.S. Census shows Henry and Fannie Tuke as the owners of the house at 218 Comal Street; that house was worth $3,500. Henry Tuke was 73, had been born in Holland to German-born parents, and was the proprietor of a grocery store. He immigrated to the United States in 1892 and was a naturalized citizen. Fannie Tuke was 68, had been born in Missouri to German-born parents, and had no occupation listed. They had two children at home: son Clemmons, 30, who had been born in Oregon, and was a mechanical engineer in a foundry; and daughter Lillie, 32, who had been born in Oregon and was a clerk in the grocery store.

Henry G. and Fanny Tuke appear at their former residence at 1121 E. 4th Street in the 1920 U.S. Census. Henry G. Tuke was a 62-year old Dutch-born retail grocery merchant. This census report shows that both of his parents had been born in Holland as well, as opposed to the 1930 U.S. Census, which shows his parents having been born in Germany. The 1920 census report also reports that Henry G. Tuke immigrated to the United States in 1885 and became a naturalized citizen in 1898. Fanny Tuke was 55, and had been born in Missouri to a German-born father and a French-born mother. She had no occupation listed. They had 3 children at home: son Francis, 25, a salesman in a retail grocery; daughter Lillian, 22, and son Clement, 21. All of the children had been born in Oregon. Lillian and Clement had no occupation shown in the census report.

By 1940, according to the census report of that year, Henry G. and Frances Tuke were living at 701 Patterson Avenue, a house they owned, and which was worth $3,000. Henry G. Tuke was 83, had been born in Germany, and had no occupation listed. Frances Tuke was 81, had been born in Missouri, and had no occupation listed. With them lived their daughter, Lillian M., 43, who was not married. She was born in Oregon and had no occupation listed.

Henry G. and Fannie Tuke were living at 701 Patterson Avenue at the time of their deaths, 10 days apart in August, 1944. Fannie Tuke was born in St. Louis, Missouri in 1858 and was a homemaker. Thursday, with Father Schreiner officiating. Pallbearers were H. T. Spear, Charles Thomas, James Stilley, Alfred Helm, camp, W. H. Luch and M. O. Rester. Interment was in Mt. Calvary.

$319 Cash, Checks Stolen in Purse At Grocery Store

The loss of $319 in cash and checks from Lyons Grocery, 220 Comal, headed a list of thefts under investigation by detectives Monday.

C. A. Lyons told officers the money and checks were taken from a purse, left under a counter at his store. He said he left the front door of the store open while cleaning up, and that he had gone into the living quarters behind the store. Upon returning, the money was gone, Lyons reported.

Small Grocery Hit
By Daylight Holdup

Daybreak bandits robbed a woman storekeeper at 220 Co-mal Street Monday morning, raising the score to four stick-
ups here in six days.

Mrs. Lillie Swartz, owner-operator of the small, neighborhood Swartz Grocery, told Patrolman Jack Adkins the bandits got $425 in small bills.

She described the robbers as a "tall, thin Negro man waving a gun and another shorter man".

"I've never been scared here before, especially in the mornings," Mrs. Swartz said. "I have lots of people going to work and school children coming in."

She said the bandits acted
like customers until the tall, thin man stood face to face at the counter and whipped out a pistol.

"You know what this is? Give me the money and hurry."

Mrs. Swartz said she handed over $425 in ten, five and one dollar bills.

The bandits fled on foot, run-
ing north on Comal Street.
A 14-year-old Allan Junior High School student saw one of the suspects turn west on East Fourth Street, running toward town.

"I didn't get a good look at him," Jerry Castillo, of 305
Comal, told Detective George West. "About all I could tell was that he had on black pans."

The grocery store robbery was the biggest haul reported in a series of stickups here.

Early Saturday a lone white man robbed the Waldorf Motel at 6702 North Lamar and esaped with $30.

Friday a lone Negro bandit got more than $30 from a stick-up at the Hancock Service Station at 2135 East Seventh.

On Wednesday the haul was $175 from the Payless Liquor Store at 6534 North Lamar by a white man.
