Additional Backup Information:

Approval of this item will enable Austin Public Health's subgrantees to provide healthy adolescent services under the Austin Healthy Adolescent Program (AHA) at Del Valle Independent School District's high-school campus. AHA engages youth through peer-led, comprehensive sexual health education to make informed, sexual-health decisions, and to prevent unplanned pregnancies and HIV/ Sexually Transmitted Infections (STI's). The evidence-based curriculum focuses on safer sexual health practices, healthy relationships, consent, and assertive communication using a trauma-informed approach to sexual health education. The program also connects adolescents with quality, youth-friendly services in Austin/Travis County.

According to the Texas Education Agency 2019 Del Valle High School student profile, 84.9% are Hispanic and/or Latino, 8.9% are African American, 3.8% are White, 1.4% are two or more races and 74.4% are economically disadvantaged. Texas ranked 4th highest out of 50 states and the District of Columbia on final 2016 teen birth rates among females ages 15-19, with a rate of 31 births per 1,000 compared to 20.3 nationally. In Texas, 66% percent of all teen births were to Hispanic females under the age of 20 compared to 36% nationally [U.S. Department of Commerce. (n.d.).
