WHEREAS

As stated in the Urban Sustainability Director's Network report, "Resilience Hubs: Shifting Power to Communities and Increasing Community Capacity," much community resilience work relies on top-down approaches that often "fail to meaningfully include equity-centered strategies considering the most vulnerable populations"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:

The City's effort should include not only the necessary facilities planning but also engagement with each community to ensure adequate around communications, personnel, transportation, and supplies and resources. Such engagement should also ensure that the process and the hubs themselves embody the principles articulated by the Urban Sustainability Director Network's Resilience Hubs Guidance and Analysis Tools to center the needs of the most vulnerable and affected community members, including ensuring communities successfully receive communications in their native languages.
