

Professional Biography – KIMBERLY OLIVARES

July 2021

Kimberly Olivares joined the City of Austin in 2003 and has held positions in the City Manager's Office, Public Works Department, and Financial Services Department. She currently serves as Deputy Chief Financial Officer, where she oversees treasury, strategic facility delivery (P3s), tax increment reinvestment zone (TIRZ) and public improvement district (PID) financing, and Financial Services Department administrative staff. Previously, she was the Chief Performance Officer leading the City's commitment to instilling a culture of continuous learning and improvement throughout the organization through strategic plan organizational alignment and culture change, performance measurement and data analytics, and process improvement consulting. She was also the Deputy Budget Officer for the City, managing the capital improvement program financial services, Budget Office information technology support team, and performance measurement program.

Kimberly received her B.A. from the University of Notre Dame, Master of Public Affairs from the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas at Austin, and Master of Business Administration from St. Edward's University. She has also worked for the City of Southlake, Texas, and the City of Tampa, Florida.

As a representative of the City of Austin, Kimberly is very active with the Government Finance Officers Association and serves as the Chair of its Committee on Economic Development and Capital Planning.