The intended use of this checklist is to aid in the completion of a residential permit application. This checklist provides direction on where the most frequently overlooked zoning requirements can be found. This list is not intended to be exhaustive of all possible requirements. For more specific details related to zoning requirements, please refer to the City of Austin's Land Development Code (LDC).

Applications and forms can be found at the following website: www.austintexas.gov/department/forms-applications

General

Please verify the following before submitting your plans:

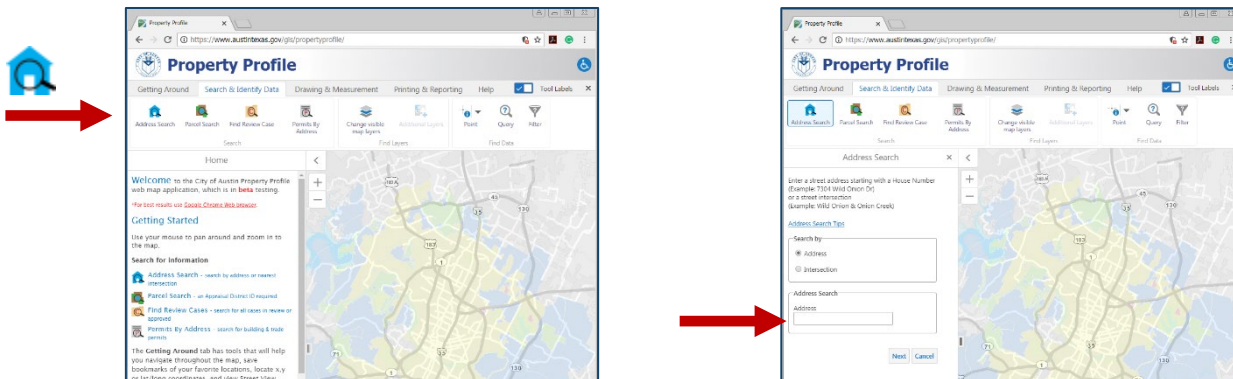

- Permit applications are project specific. Has the correct application been used for the scope of work and filled out in its entirety?
- Has Austin Energy's BSPA form been completed in its entirety and submitted?
- Has Austin Water's WWWSVP form and the project's plot plan been stamped?
- If greater than 50% of exterior walls are being demolished, a Demolition Permit application needs to be filled out and submitted.
- Expired permits for the property will need to be included in the scope of work or the Acknowledgment form is to be submitted.
- Any code violation particular to development will need to be included in the scope of work.
- If a second or third unit is proposed on the property, a new address must be requested from Address Management Services before submitting.
