10,000th live music show rocks airport, $10K presented to HAAM

Tuesday, Dec. 6, 2016 marked the 10,000th live music performance at Austin-Bergstrom International Airport.

In celebration of the milestone, airport concessionaire and live music sponsor Delaware North Companies (DNC) presented HAAM (Health Alliance for Austin Musicians) with a $10,000 donation. Grammy winner Ray Benson, front man of Asleep at the Wheel, performed along with an Austin all-star lineup including the Carolyn Wonderland Band, Shelley King, Redd Volkaert, Jackie Venson, Rick Trevino, and Wendy Colonna.

“Music is in the soul of Austin, including its airport. It’s been here from the beginning. Now we celebrate 10,000 live music performances,” said Terry Mahlum, Regional Vice President, DNC.

“It’s a milestone worthy of a big show with Ray Benson and Austin all-star musicians, plus a $10,000 donation to HAAM. We are so proud to be a part of this.”

In recognition of the airport’s music program and DNC’s support of HAAM, a proclamation was issued from Austin Mayor Steve Adler and Texas Senator Kirk Watson, along with a letter from U.S. Congressman Lloyd Doggett.

A distinguishing airport amenity, live music has been featured at Austin’s airport since it opened in 1999. What started as two performances per week on one stage in 1999 has grown to 21 shows per week in five different venues throughout the airport: Ray Benson’s Roadhouse, The Saxon Pub, Annie’s Café & Bar, Earl Campbell’s Sports Bar, and Austin City Limits/ Waterloo Records & Video.

Regularly scheduled performances are held Monday through Friday at various times pending location. See the schedule at www.abia.gov. Additionally, extra performances are booked for special events such as the ACL Music Festival, SXSW, and Formula 1. The airport has been a sanctioned showcase for SXSW since 2000.

All live music venues of the airport are located past security checkpoints accessible to ticketed passengers only, currently an audience of approximately 30,000-36,000 passengers each day.

Record year expected

With only December’s passengers left to count, Austin-Bergstrom International Airport is projecting a sixth straight record year of passenger traffic. Through November, 11.4 million passengers have already passed through Austin-Bergstrom in 2016, up 5% over the same stretch in 2015.

Aeromexico launches Austin - Mexico City nonstop service

Aeromexico launched new, nonstop service between Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (AUS) and Mexico City, Mexico (MEX) on November 17, 2016. The inaugural flight ceremony included cake, ribbon cutting, and a live performance by soloist Lisa Morales.

The new flights from Austin operate Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays, departing at 1:09 p.m., arriving in Mexico City at 3:33 p.m. Return flights depart Mexico City on the same days at 9:30 a.m., arriving in Austin at 11:53 a.m.

“The Austin service increases our average weekly offer to 6,500 seats in our round routes to Texas that will increase economical, commercial, educational and cultural trade with the state. It also allows our clients to connect to more destinations inside Mexico, Central and South America,” said Anko Van der Werff, chief revenue officer, at Aeromexico.

From Mexico City, convenient connections to 45 destinations in Mexico are available on Aeromexico. Beyond Mexico, Aeromexico offers service to 15 destinations in Latin America, four in Europe, three in Canada and two in Asia.

Kansas City, Raleigh-Durham added

Southwest Airlines and Delta Air Lines have announced new daily nonstop service beginning in March 2017 from Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (AUS). Delta will launch service to Raleigh-Durham International Airport (RDU) on March 9, 2017, followed by Southwest to Kansas City International Airport (MCI) on March 13, 2017.

Raleigh-Durham flights will be operated by GoJet on a CRJ-900 aircraft with 76 seats. Tickets are available at www.delta.com.

“This new non-stop connects two cities with a lot in common – a love of great outdoors, booming tech industries, and a diehard dedication to college sports. I hope this new connection results in North Carolina learning how barbecue ought to be prepared, but regardless, I’m looking forward to a closer relationship with our new friends in Raleigh,” said Austin Mayor Steve Adler.

Southwest will fly to Kansas City on a 143-seat, Boeing 737-700. Visit www.southwest.com for tickets.

“This better connects the innovative businesses of both our growing cities,” said Jim Smith, Executive Director of Austin-Bergstrom International Airport. “Plus, Austin and Kansas City’s barbeque and blues scenes just got closer.”
