Condor Airlines announces Frankfurt, Germany nonstop

Condor Airlines will inaugurate Austin service with new, twice-weekly nonstop flights between Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (AUS) and Frankfurt International Airport (FRA).

The seasonal flights are scheduled to operate on Mondays and Thursdays from June 27, 2016 through September 1, 2016.

"I am pleased to welcome Condor to Austin-Bergstrom International Airport next summer with a new nonstop to Frankfurt, Germany. New options for air service bring new business, jobs and tourism to Austin," said Austin Mayor Steve Adler.

"The addition of the already 10th destination in the United States next year shows clearly how important the U.S. market is for Condor. And we want to cater to those who want to avoid crowded and congested hubs and rather travel nonstop to Frankfurt from their home airport such as Austin, Texas," said Ralf

Teckentrup, Managing Director at Condor Airlines. "And once in Frankfurt, passengers can connect to basically any major destination in Europe."

Frankfurt is a highly populated city in the center of Germany and the financial heartbeat of continental Europe. The densely populated "Rhine-Main Metropolitan Region" is the second largest metropolitan region in Germany, consisting of a rich cultural landscape, offering everything from national museums, theatres, operas, pulsating nightlife, and much more. Frankfurt is an excellent starting point for tours throughout Germany and Europe.

New Rental Car Facility brings airport parking, convenience

A number of construction projects came to a close in 2015 at Austin-Bergstrom International Airport. The most recent was the completion of the new Rental Car Facility, which opened October 1, 2015. The opening marked the completion, by private delivery, of a new five-level, 1.6 million square foot complex that consolidates all rental car operations, including vehicle pick up and drop off, car storage, cleaning, and fueling into a single facility.

Moving rental vehicles to this facility opened up about 900 of the closest parking spaces to the airport terminal for the traveling public on the top level of the garage. Another parking improvement provided by the Rental Car Facility, its completion transformed what once was part of an open air lot, Lot A, exposed to the elements, into a new parking garage with about 800 covered spaces.

CONRAC is a new five-level, 1.6 million square foot complex that consolidates all rental car operations, including vehicle pick up and drop off, car storage, cleaning, and fueling into a single facility.

Passengers walking to the Rental Car Facility can enjoy a new art exhibit, Uplifted Ground, by Michael Singer. Uplifted Ground is a sculptural landscape at the core of a pedestrian walkway connecting the terminal to the car rental facility. It features hundreds of earth-toned, suspended and ground elements inspired by geological formations, native materials, and aerial photography of Austin. At night, LED light emerges from within many of the hollow concrete elements to create a glowing pattern of light along the walkway.

2015 already a record year as of end of November

With December's passengers still left to count, Austin-Bergstrom International Airport is already celebrating a fifth straight record year of passenger traffic. In November, traffic soared over 17%, pushing the airport past its previous annual record of 10.7 million set last year. Through November, 10.8 million passengers have already passed through Austin-Bergstrom in 2015, up 11% over the same stretch in 2014.

Eliminating the need to ferry cars between the service center and customer pick up reduces fuel consumption, traffic on airport roadways, and vehicle exhaust. The reduction in vehicle exhaust is expected to lower carbon dioxide emissions by 411.7 tons per year.

Allegiant expands nonstop routes

The Austin airport has experienced significant growth of service by Allegiant Air. As recently as June 4, 2015, Allegiant launched nonstop service between Austin and Cincinnati. Starting February 2016, the Austin-Cincinnati route will be offered year-round. The latest flight addition now includes an Austin-Memphis nonstop route which began in October 2015.

Brand USA/Memphis Convention & Visitor's Bureau

"We welcome the continued expansion of Allegiant Air, which brings new visitors to Central Texas, and creates more flying options for our customers," said Jim Smith, Executive Director, Austin-Bergstrom International Airport.

February 2015, Allegiant became the first airline to operate nonstop service between Austin and Orlando Sanford International Airport (SFB), in Orlando, Fla. Allegiant began air service in Austin in fall 2013 with nonstop flights to Las Vegas.

Pet resort, new covered parking under construction

Construction on a new covered parking facility and pet resort is underway at Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (ABIA). The new services Park & Zoom and Bark & Zoom are being developed and operated by Scott Airport Parking. Both projects are anticipated for completion in late 2016.

"Scott Airport Parking brings a welcome new service to AUS, pet boarding, in addition to more parking spaces," said Jim Smith, Executive Director, Austin-Bergstrom International Airport. "We are pleased to be in a partnership to help bring these new amenities to our travelers."

Bark & Zoom will bring one-stop convenience to travelers who need someone to care for their pets while they are away. Pets will have access to outdoor play yards, a pet pool, and dog and cat grooming. Services will be available to the general public, not just those traveling through ABIA. The pet resort will be managed by the Taurus Academy, an Austin "home grown" company with more than 20 years of experience in the pet care and training industry.

Randy Denzel
ARFF Chief

There's a new chief in charge at Austin-Bergstrom

International Airport. With over 17 years of service with the Austin Fire Department, Randy Denzel was recently assigned to lead the department's Airport Rescue Fire Fighters (ARFF) division at the airport. ARFF provides quality response to emergencies on airport grounds including the terminal and airfield. "The biggest joy I receive from my job is the privilege of helping folks out," said Denzel.

Celebrating DNC's 100th with Benson, teddy bears

It was a celebration worthy of a Grammy award winning artist. Ray Benson, lead of "Asleep at the Wheel," performed at his airport bar for holiday travelers to help celebrate the 100 year anniversary of airport concessionaire Delaware North Travel Hospitality Services (DNC). "Ray's performance is a highlight event for passengers at Austin's airport and of our live music program here," said Mike Glenn, DNC General Manager at Austin-Bergstrom. Additionally, DNC donated 100 teddy bears to a nearby elementary school. As part of the school's Peace Week, Del Valle Elementary students focused on a different character trait each day (Respect, Ally, Tolerance, Empathy, and Integrity) and were challenged to "pay it forward" by demonstrating these qualities. Winners from each grade level received a donated bear from DNC.
